CHAFFEY HIGH SCHOOL

EVERY MAN IS THE ARCHITECT OF HIS OWN FATE

Ray,
Hi well I know we didn't get along that well, but there were times that we had alot of fun. Well have a very nice summer and have fun with all the girls. KIT. 686-5737

Love,
Amy

Dear Rob,

I'm glad I met you this year. Just think next year we'll be big Dads. This summer we must do something! Just remember that I'm the person who helped ya get a A in Geo. Hope you enjoy this small summing part of the year. You've made it in the world. Take this picture with the rest of your memories.

P.S. Don't forget to write.

A Glimpse of the Present . . .

While tradition remained one of Chaffey's most prominent distinctions, some important additions were also made to the campus.

This past year, Chaffey welcomed three new vice principals, Mr. Miller, Mr. Mendoza, and Mr. Gosswiller. While these men worked in their offices, other changes outside were taking place.

Parking on a first-come-first-serve basis gave some students a reason to come to school early. As Mike Pelletier stated, "If you want to get a space, you have to get here on time." This was a real change from the parking permits of previous years.

Other changes included the addition of male yell leaders to the formerly all-girl pep squad, the enlargement of the marching band from 40 to 75 members, and the popular fifties revival.

Another significant addition on campus was the Peer Counselor Porgram. Students were trained by Miss Welsh last year to prepare them for their work as counselors. These students were there to help other students who had a difficult time talking to teachers or counselors about their problems. The program was also very rewarding for the Peer Counselors themselves. Peer counselor, Paula Del Turco, summed it up when she said, "Never before in my life have I received such self-satisfaction."

And last but certainly not least, the tiger in Gardiner Spring Auditorium was rebuilt and rededicated. This tiger represented a tradition as well as an addition at Chaffey. This was very significant in that, while it was, and always has been, important to observe tradition, it was equally important to help keep tradition alive by preserving and restoring, as well the case in renovating the tiger.

A Glance of the Past

Tradition has always played a very significant role at Chaffey. 1983 was no exception. We again had the chance to observe traditional landmarks on campus which set Chaffey apart from other schools in the district. We also observed the usual, but always special, traditional events and activities which took place throughout the school year.

The landmarks on campus, such as Gardiner W. Spring Auditorium and Tower Hall, have become very important symbols of Chaffey. The impressive neoclassic columns and arches of GWS Auditorium date back to the 1930's and have seen many a class of students come and go.

Traditional events, included Spirit Nite, Back-to-Squad, and various class competitions to name a few.

Spirit Nite gave students a chance to show school spirit, while at the same time gave an opportunity for a little friendly competition between the classes, the prize being the Spirit Trophy. The seniors took it away — which is almost a tradition in itself. That same night, Tigers observed another old tradition — Back-to-Squad time. The pep squad from the previous year joined the 1982-83 squad for one last night cheering on the field.

The many class competitions at the rallies throughout the year also continued tradition. One such competition involved the class cabinets pitted against each other in a race which included getting as much water as possible into a large container.

Another small, yet very significant tradition observed, as usual, was the singing of the alma mater after the football games — win or lose. This showed pride in the school and in the student body.

As in the past, tradition could be felt on campus and at all the school events. It wasn't just the alma mater that helped create unity among students, or the injuries and defeats which often marked the games, but the pride that came from knowing that singing that song, and attending those events, were the very same experiences that students ten, twenty, and even fifty years before had shared in the same way — with Tiger pride.

▲ The return of the past year's pep squad provides an old and awaited tradition.

A 'Pride' of Our Own

During the year, it was evident that many people from the surrounding communities had a different view of Chaffey than we who attended here.

Many knew Chaffey because of its size. They apparently thought that because the campus was large, a hardship was created for the students. If Chaffey was mentioned to an outsider, a look of horror overcame them as they asked, "But how do you manage to get from one class to another?" Granted the campus was big, and it did span 62 acres. Students, however, got used to it very quickly. After a while we didn't notice how large our school was, but rather how small others were.

Another comment people made was that Chaffey had so many people that it was probably very impersonal. Chaffey was many things, but impersonal? Never. Teri Fitzgerald's philosophy expressed the optimistic view of many students. "I look at it this way," she said, "there are more people at Chaffey, so you have more friends!

Also this past year the enrollment actually decreased to three thousand two hundred — the least we'd had in years and five hundred less than last year. This decrease in enrollment showed up in many ways, one was the number of students evident at lunch time. The population of South Quad at lunch had dwindled significantly.

Many people were also convinced that anyone attending Chaffey was in fear of his or her very life. Visions of riots and overall violence flashed in their minds. And it wasn't hard to see how people got the impressions they did. Many opinions were influenced by senseless rumors and misinformed individuals. These people merely had a different perspective because they were on the outside looking in.

What the outsiders didn't see were the many positive aspects of Chaffey such as the many clubs and organizations on campus and a student body which was truly unique. The fact that the school was big made it all the more unique. Chaffey was made up of such a wide variety of people that it was a very interesting place to be. So although many people saw Chaffey as a big, impersonal, and generally violent school, we knew better.

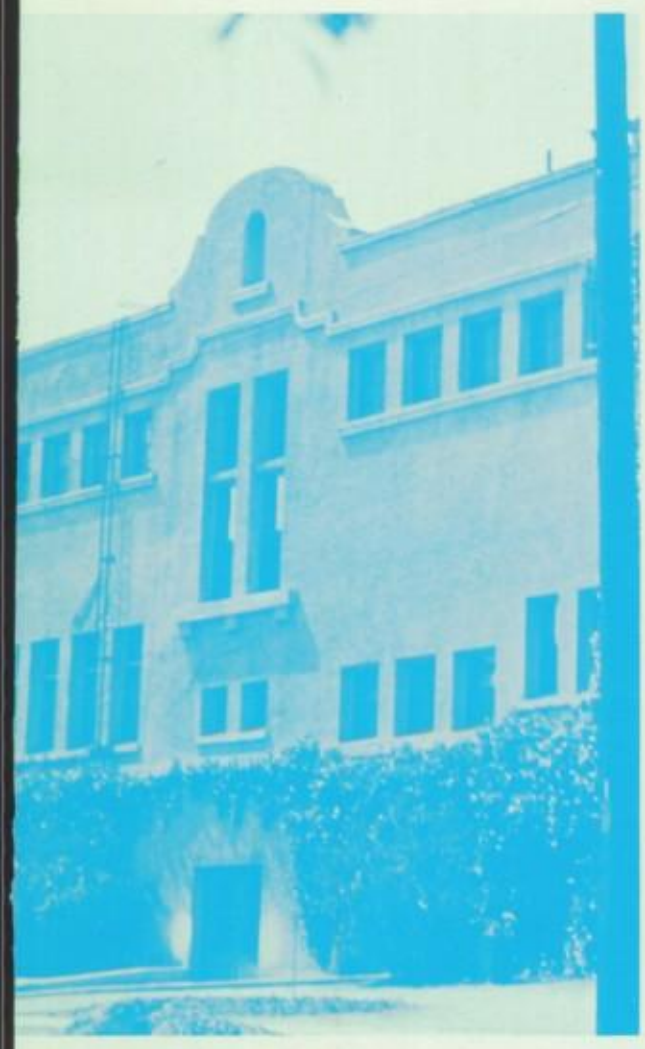
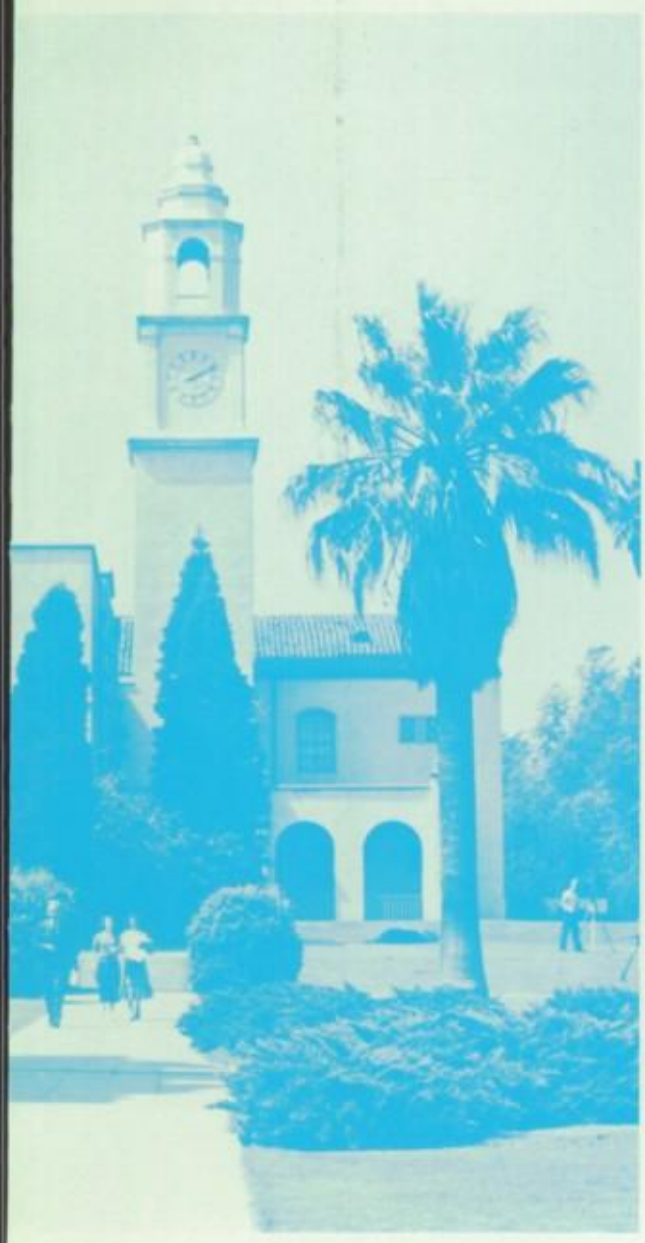
▲ Beginning with only one room, the Chaffey Library later expanded and grew to new dimensions.

Despite the burning in 1913, the Science Building was rebuilt once again.





4 Score and 18 Years Ago . . .

A dream of many educators became a reality for the Chaffey Brothers in 1885. That was when land from their 6,000 acres was used to build the Chaffey College of Agriculture. A single building was opened in 1885, but was closed in 1901 for the forming of Ontario High School.

In 1911, the Chaffey Joint Union High School District was formed and the school was renamed Chaffey. The first buildings of Ontario High School had been formed in mission style. An issue was passed to remodel the Liberal Arts Building and erect a science and a mechanical arts building, and also an auditorium. The building program continued due to increased attendance. This, in turn, resulted in an increase in the size of the campus. The first year of school, the teachers' salaries ranged between $1,000 and $1,800. The custodians earned $75 monthly.

A junior college was provided in 1922, which was part of the district until 1958. It was affiliated with the University of California for a period of time, but due to unknown circumstances, was dissolved. By 1931, it was only related by friendly interest. Today, 8 schools, plus the addition of the Site 6 school, make up the Chaffey Joint Union High School District.

School standards have changed since the early days of Chaffey. School social events did occur. One vital concern in 1932 was a request for ballroom dancing. Initially, the request was denied, but later in the year, it was approved. Strict rules were enforced and were to be abided by all — or else! One rule was that no one was allowed to enter the dance without a partner of the opposite sex. The standards hadn't changed much by 1941. Permission was denied to allow the wearing of overalls and gingham dresses at a barn dance held in the gym. Proper attire was the policy.

Chaffey has grown and changed in many aspects in the last 71 years. Class sizes, students, staff, and standards are a few of the main differences. Though times and standards had changed, students continued to be confronted with many of the same problems, decisions, and feeling which students had, and always will face.

Inner Aspects

Preppy? Fifties? Punk? New Wave? What were you wearing in 1983? Some Chaffey students continued to wear the particular styles to which they had become accustomed. However, for many, 1983 marked the end of specific style. Out were $50 designer jeans and people mixed and matched just about anything. Leroy's Boys' Home and other thrift shops were favorites for many. Fashion-consciousness gave way to individuality.

Another way students expressed individuality was through their different interests and activities. Some chose to get involved in social or service groups, some in sports, and then there were some individuals who held down part-time jobs. Although the student body was so diverse, it was still able to interact openly. For instance, in sports activities many different types of students started out at the beginning of the year as strangers. By the end of the season these individuals had become a team, a real "family."

It's true that during the year each student was working toward his or her own personal goal, yet most took the time to be a part of groups or to just take an interest in other students and help one another as in a working family. The many different students each gave a part of his or herself to create an atmosphere unique to Chaffey. This was the CHS family.

Decisions, Decisions

Much of the students' time was occupied with making decisions and solving problems. Some of the decisions were small, requiring only simple answers — "What should the topic of my paper be?" or "What am I going to have for lunch today?" Then there were some which weren't as simple as they seemed — "Should I ask him to the dance? I just know he'll say no . . ."

Election time wasn't that easy either. With so many qualified candidates, one found it difficult to decide on the "right" choice. This also applied to those seniors who were able to vote in the state's general election.

Scramble was another time when on-the-spot decisions had to be made. If pre-registered classes were filled, one had to select another schedule to replace the previous one. This certainly "scrambled" one's plans! Clubs and classes also had many decisions to make and problems to solve. Building Construction, for example, needed to decide the design of the house and what to put in it. Those who were active in sports also had their share of decisions to make. During games, for instance, an individual had to make quick decisions which would sometimes affect the outcome of the game.

One very important decision with which some students were faced, was trying to decide on a lifelong career. These students found guidance and information through the career center and the ROP and Work Experience programs which gave students a chance to explore new career objectives.

The specific decisions seniors had to face were very hard to deal with at times. When the pressure was on, "Senioritis" set in. At times, teachers, counselors, or friends were there to help, but usually the ultimate decisions had to be made by the individual.

There were definitely some important decisions to make. Many seniors had to choose a college, and along with this came the problem of filling out application after application. There were also the additional worries of taking the SAT and Achievment Tests. Those students who decided against going to college had to decide what they would do once out of high school.

Some students participated in the Human Relations class. This class helped students deal with future real life issues. This, in turn, compelled the student to become aware of the various decisions he could possibly have to make concerning things such as marriage, divorce, and planning for the future.

The decisions which had to be made throughout high school were vast in number. Some of them were small and seemingly trivial while others were huge and seemingly impossible. However, all of them were significant, for, in making the decisions and solving the many problems, one became better qualified to meet the challenges of life outside Chaffey.

▲ The USC college speaker explains the advantages of a private college.
◀ Proud "father", Scott Pearson, escorts the "blushing" bride, Shawna Kneller, down the aisle during the mock wedding as part of the Human Relations class.

▼ Students find that Mr. Stark is more than just a drafting teacher, but a person who cares and is always available when needed.

Some thought him to be serious and hard working. Others knew him as brilliant, witty, and self-sacrificing. Numerous qualities described him. He was very conscious of those around him. He would never have his students do anything they weren't capable of doing. Being classified under the "tall, silent" type, very few knew what he was like under the stern exterior. He rarely lost his temper and often told witty jokes.

With the mind of a scholar, he graduated magna cum laude from the University of Santa Barbara in 1952. He came to Chaffey in 1952 and became the assistant football coach under Mr. Jack Tinson. In 1959, he left Chaffey to coach at LaVerne College, but returned in 1964 to become Chaffey's Head football coach.

The word which best described this man is DEDICATED. In addition to coaching, he was involved in many activities which included the booster club and coaching his son's baseball team. He also supported the different sport teams by attending all the games. He is a family man, dedicated to his wife, Marian, and sons, Charles, Scott, and Randy. He showed his loyalty to his job through his perfect attendance record of 26 years with 1982 marking his first and only day of absence.

His never-ending spirit brought him respect from his friends and students. Because of his dedication to Chaffey, The Fasti staff is proud to dedicate the 1982-83 yearbook to

Seniors: The Class of 1983

Senior Cabinet

The Senior Class Cabinet was dedicated to making the 1982-1983 school year a truly memorable one. They sponsored many activities in an effort to bring unity to the senior class and to Chaffey. The cabinet sponsored the first backwards dance, entitled "Happy Days Are Here Again." The "50's" theme was in keeping with the rockabilly craze that swept the school.

The Senior Cabinet concluded a successful year by sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom held at The Registry Hotel in Irvine, in May. The Prom was proclaimed to be a 'class' act by all.

The advisor for the class of 1983 were: Fred Adams, Glen Chappell, Sue Moncla, Andrea Smith, and Herm Zmolek.

Past Chaffey students may have had privilege stickers, but they were still checked by proctors as to where they were going.

Seniors: A tradition as old as Chaffey itself. Numerous people have walked across Graber Field to receive their diplomas. It seemed only yesterday when we were freshmen, attending Freshman Orientation and wondering how we would ever get to our classes in time in the 8 minute passing period. If freshman year was the year to walk everywhere, Sophomore year was filled with the yearning to receive a drivers license and drive! With driving came the prestige of being able to park in the 4th street parking lot and be a part of the crowd trying to arrive in time for a front parking space.

Junior year was the one last step before becoming a senior. It was the in-between stage, battling the responsibilities of driving, maybe a part-time job, and the last "easy" year before worrying about college. Then, senior year. Once rumored to be "kick-back," one found that in reality, it was the busiest for some. For those looking forward to college, there were numerous applications and scholarships to fill, and SAT and Achievement tests to be taken. Government and C.P.I. classes required term papers to be written. The famed "senioritis" disease inched its way into the minds of all, which some had contracted early in the year. Finally, on June 15, 1983 it all ended with yet another class graduation from Chaffey.

It is a sequence that repeats in time continually, beginning in 1912 till . . . Chaffey — a school full of tradition, in which the class of 1983 has added a new chapter to its rich history.

Seniors are known for their great energy, co-ordination, and yelling power. No matter where you were — a Chaffey sports event, a rally, or just walking on the campus, one was bound to hear or witness their great enthusiastic power.

During class competitions, the seniors never failed to amaze their audiences with their enthusiastic energy. The seniors supported the Homecoming elections by having more seniors vote and participate in the week's events far more this year than in previous years. Chaffey's ambition, such as that, put seniors ahead in 1983.

Great Expectations

"What would you like to be when you grow up?" was a question many seniors felt needed to be put to rest. Finals, scrambling, clubs, graduation, and an overall sense of "senioritis" were things to be contended with first. So what were many seniors' plans after high school? — if we may put such a tired question back into use again. Was it to gain further educational experience, seek immediate employment, or to simply drop out of sight?Beth Coward proclaimed her ambition after high school was, "to relax and enjoy myself, and follow whatever I want to do." Beth also was aware of the pressure put on her by both her peers and her parents to try pursuing a future with a little more "solidity" to it. "The guilt trips some people will place on another can put a strain on a relationship," she summed up, then added, "Simply because I don't want to be what everybody else wants me to be." To the contrary, Stewart Hunter said he's pretty definite about his future and has gained support from nearly everyone. However, similar to Beth, Stewart said he's still leaving himself "open to change" as well. He also noted the many decisions a senior had to make as being part of his "growing up" process. Other seniors also recognized definite plans in their lives as well as illusions. However, Stewart wisely stated that "a lot of hard work, study, and perseverance" were prime factors in making his dreams become realities.

Under Pressure

"Where are you going?" "Who are you going our with?" "Is your homework finished?" Most students heard these questions asked many times. Whether we realized it or not, our parents greatly affected us throughout our high school years. At times, parents could be valuable friends, at other times, however, they seemed virtually unbearable. The pressures they put us under may have seemed tremendously difficult to handle at the time, but someday, we may be thankful that our parents gave us that extra push that guided us toward becoming more responsible and effective adults.

Transitions . . .

Looking back to those freshman days, it seemed hard to believe that seniors were thought to have "the easy life." Little did we know what was expected of us as seniors. We didn't know that being a senior wasn't just an endless round of football games, parties and good times. Along with the good times came a great deal of responsibility. Being a senior suddenly meant holding down a job, filling out endless applications — all in an effort to prepare ourselves for college or our other post-graduation plans. It was a kind of culture shock — a transition from a protected underclassmen to a young person who was ready to face the world as an adult. All of a sudden, we were seniors. As seniors, we sometimes devoted ourselves to so many things at once that it seemed as if our senior year might never end. But then June came, and we were ready to step outside the limited confines of Chaffey. It has been a home to us for the past four years, and though we've learned so much from our experiences at Chaffey, it's now time to enter the outside world. There's so much waiting for us . . . the graduating class of 1983!!!

Many students, such as Diane Sutherland, found that being a senior often meant many long hours of studying.

They Never Said It Was Easy . . .

It is a known fact that seniors carry a great amount of responsibility. They not only have to take care of themselves and their cars, but must also deal with responsibilities at school. The prime concern of most seniors was applying to and getting accepted at the college of their choice. Seniors generally applied to at least three or four colleges before being accepted at one. Sometimes the pressure was almost too much to bear. But happily, the hours of studying and worrying are generally rewarded by the chance to further a promising education.

Beat Goes on . . .

It has often been said that music can be a great influence on people. This certainly held true at Chaffey. It was interesting to note that music and styles had made a kind of revolution on Chaffey's campus. Looking back at some of the "old ways" at Chaffey, it could be said that the "new days" weren't quite so new after all. Students were once again listening to "rockabilly," pompadours were back in style, and dancing was still one of the hottest things around. This was due to influential groups such as the Stray Cats, Jimmy and the Mustangs, and the Red Devils. The faces had changed, and a few years had gone by, but style itself had never gone out of style.

Relationships

Developing relationships was a very important and intricate part of the students' life during high school. Relationships existed not only between students, but also between students and teachers. There was a lot to learn from these people whom we interacted with regularly. Senior, Janice Evans, expressed her feelings clearly when she said, "My friends help me with everyday problems that occur. Without them, I might not come to school." Acquiring and sustaining friendships — many of which will be remembered long past graduation — made high school a much more meaningful and rewarding experience.

C.S.F. Sealbearers

In order to qualify as sealbearer, one had to belong to the California Scholarship Federation for the equivalent of 4 semesters, with one semester during the senior year. Highly dedicated students who qualified as sealbearers received gold seals on their diplomas and were entitled to life membership. The sealbearers were identified at graduation by their gold tassels and cords.

Graduation Speakers

Different from last year, a speaker at Commencement was added to the regular three speakers at the Baccalaureate services. After a preliminary reading, before the judging committee, four speakers were chosen. Representing the 1983 senior class was Greg Cantrell, Cynthia Conzalez, Christine Shoup, and Kathy Spinelli. By speaking at graduation services, these students related feelings about mutual experiences and what is held for the future of the class of 1983.

Boy of the Year

Gene Burdwell — Gene was chosen Boy of the Year because of the many hours of service and leadership he contributed to Chaffey High School. As A.S.B. President, Gene was responsible for the planning of many student government activities. He presided over the activities and meetings of Executive Council each day during fourth period. Gene also attended Principal's Council two afternoons a month to present student views to the high school administration. Countless hours were spent by Gene supervising the sales in the A.S.B. Student Store and council projects such as the blood drive, student body card sales, teacher recognition activities, freshmen orientation, class drawings at rallies, and various assemblies held throughout the school year.

Girl of the Year

Cindy Gonzalez — Cindy was chosen Girl of the Year because of the many activities she was involved with during her senior year. Prior to the opening of the school year, she was selected to represent Chaffey at a week-long conference in Sacrament called Girls' State. As President of CSF, Cindy helped organize the CSF banquet. Many events at Chaffey were successful because of the time and energy Cindy devoted to activities outside her busy class schedule such as CSL Mother/Daughter banquet, the "King" Backwards week activities, serving at several sports banquets, decorating locker rooms before football and basketball games, organizing the CSL's Welfare Week, helping with the Special Olympics, and ushering at many school-sponsored events. Besides these activities Cinbdy served as editor of the yearbook staff which included the production of the 1983 Fasti.

Making the Grade

There were many advantages to attaining academic excellence at Chaffey High School. High marks not only looked good on transcripts and applications, but they were the key to membership in Chaffey's honorary and scholastic organization. The California Scholarship Federation was one such organizations. Membership was determined by points, with each letter grade contributing a certain amount of points towards a total score of ten. The ultimate goal of most CSF members was to become a sealbearer. Sealbearers were seniors who had been a member of CSF for five or more semesters. They were recognized for their academic achievements by the gold tassels and cords which they wore at graduation. Sealbearers and other CSF members were honored at the annual CSF banquet held in April.

The Ivy Chain was another organization based on scholarship. They Ivy Chain was a service group composed of the girls ranking in the top 30% of the junior class. It was their duty to form the honor chain at commencement through which the class of 1982 graduated. The Ivy Chain also ushered at and served at the Senior Awards Assembly. Ivy Chain member, Melissa Jones, stated, "It was a neat feeling to be able to participate in graduation and know that we had achieved this honor for all our hard work in school.'

▼ Most Likely to Succeed: Ron Story and Cindy Gonzalez.

Singling out the 12 deserving students for the Senior Survey proved to be very trying. Numerous seniors fit the requirements for the titles. During the Government and C.P.I. classes, a 15-minute time limit was allotted for voting. Once all the surveys were collected, the votes were tallied by the Fasti Editors.

Pictures were then taken of the 1st and 2nd place finalists. In this way, the winners could be kept secret until the yearbooks were distributed. The 1983 survey results as chosen by the senior class:

▲ Cutest: Lori Villocino and Rob McCorcle.

▲ Most Athletic: Blenda Selvey and Dominick Copas.

At The Top of His Class

Bruce Armbruster has maintained a 4.0 grade point average his last three years of high school. He excelled in science and math. Bruce has displayed many talents during his years at Chaffey. He was a member of CSF for 5 semesters and is planning, at the time, to graduate as a sealbearer. He was a member of NESC, both the class and club, and enjoyed being vice-president of the sophomore class cabinet last year. Bruce also played on Chaffey's J.V. baseball team as a sophomore. In addition to maintaining a high G.P.A., Bruce had the added responsibility of holding down a part-time job.

Bruce expressed one of his main ambitions in life when he said he "plans on being rich." When asked how he felt about being chosen for the "brainiest" junior, Bruce replied, "There are a lot more people than me who concentrate more on school."

Tops in Her Field

Becky Patterson has been involved in sports for many years. Becky participated in volleyball, basketball, and softball at Chaffey and was on the varsity teams of all three during the 1982-83 year. When asked about her favorite sport, she remarked, "I love all three, but volleyball is my favorite."

Sports were not all Becky had on her mind. She was also actively involved in a church youth group in the community.

Becky proved that many times one must sacrifice some things in order to achieve success in one area. Her special area was definitely sports, and it was evident by watching her that the many hours of practice and hard work she put in was well worth the effort.

The Plans Begin Here

The Activities Board played an essential role in organizing the many events and activities that made the 1982-83 school year an interesting and exciting one. The class, aided by advisor, Gary Simpson, met during first period to make plans and discuss ideas. In order to better fulfill their duties, the members were divided into committees which each had a specific job. Under the direction of chairperson, Kelly Donaldson, the committee members worked on the duties that fell under their category, such as after-game dances, rallies, and the information on the South Quad marquee. They also helped with the showcases in North Hall, various fundraisers, and strengthening school spirit by appearing in rallies. Without the work of these dedicated individuals, student life at Chaffey would have sorely lacked enthusiasm and excitement.

Student Leaders Excel

The 1982-83 Executive Council worked very hard to make sure that the many areas of student body activity were running smoothly. Also advised by Gary Simpson, they met every day during fourth period. Their work on planning the ASB budget and drumming up ASB card sales was invaluable.

▼ Senators: Cynthia Reynolds, Anne Jenkins, Marlisa Valdez, Bridget Brennan, Carri Peltzer, Steve Bowman.

Problems Plague Council

The council members worked on committees such as the Publicity Committee, which set up the P.A. system for special events. The Budget, Class Competition, and Election Committees assisted a great deal in those areas. ASB President, Gene Burdwell, summed up the year best by saying, "The obstacles which the Executive Council has encountered have been many, but through these experiences we have acquired a better understanding of how to solve the different problems which face Student Government."

Getting Older, but Better

eading the Homecoming Queen Parade, the Pep Band plays "Raiders of the Lost Ark."

As the band matured each year, their talents expanded. Out of the entire band, 35 members made Pep Band. Every year, Chaffey grew more and more to appreciate these musical magicians. Besides attending the football games, home and away, they also played at the rallies, basketball games, and led the queen and king parades. With the beats of the drums, toots of the trumpets, and whistles of the flutes, the Pep Band's performance was more than satisfactory. Paul McCormick, the student leader, felt, "Pep Band was a learning experience for the students and especially for me as the student director. It gave me the chance to experience what it is like to direct a musical group."

The Making of a Sweepstakes Band

The Chaffey Marching Tiger Band has made their way into the big time. Although they started out slow, they ended with a bang. At their first field tournament, they were awarded with a 5th place trophy. This caused a few heartbreaks, but many of the band members looked on the brighter side. They had a total of 3 tournaments and also had the busy job of hosting their own Chaffey Tournament of Bands. By their last tournament, they had taken a 2nd place trophy for the field show itself and a sweepstakes trophy for their fine musical performance. Kim Flachs summed up the season positively. "I think we made a lot of progress this year and hopefully 1983-84 will be even better!" All in all, the Chaffey High School Marching Tiger Band had a successful season.

First Drill Team, now Color Guard. With this new title, came a new perspective. They projected a more positive image and also increased the number of people involved. Many other changes were also made, one of which was the addition of a new advisor, Carl Walters. This came as a new experience and challenge. He replied, "I learned very much and I now realize what it means to be involved with the band program and all the personal sacrifices that have to be made." Senior Captain, Cathy Perez, stated, "I'm very proud to be in Color Guard and very fortunate to be in charge of such a great group of girls."

Performing seemed to be a great challenge and a great payoff for all the girls. They were definitely a success! They never walked away empty-handed, for they received 2 second place and 1 third place trophies. Amid all the changes and confusion of the past year, the unity that was handed down as tradition for many years was still maintained by the girls.

Pep Squad "Can't Be Beat"

▼ Advisor — Janet Lehman

Pep Squad has always been a very important tradition at Chaffey. Every year, the J.V. Cheerleaders, Varsity Cheerleaders, and Varsity Songleaders are involved in various traditional activities. 1983 was no different in that respect. Although tradition was carried over, some new changes were made to make Pep Squad even better than it had been in the past.

"Can't Be Beat" was the camp theme and also Pep Squad's motto. They proved it at camp when they won sixty-four ribbons for their cheers and song routines. Camp was not the only traditional event in which the Pep Squad participated. Students watched them as they did a fantastic Job of leading school spirit at sports activities and rallies.

Pep Squad also encountered some significant changes. One of these changes was in the format of Chaffey's rallies. Instead of the songleaders performing during the rally, they did their routine before it began as the students arrived. Once the rally started, the cheerleaders led the classes in cheers and chants.

Two more changes were the addition of a new advisor, Janet Lehman, and 2 male yell leaders, John Cordova and Tony DeSalvo. Ms. Lehman was the only advisor to share the first period class with the Pep Squad. She replied, "I was pleased to be advisor to such an enthusiastic group of young people." The yell leaders added a new depth to the Pep Squad. They made it possible for the varsity cheer to perform more difficult and impressive cheers and stunts. Pep Commissioner, Lisa Benton, shared her feeling on having the yell leaders on squad. "I think it's great that guys are willing to do this. More guys need to come and try out for it!" John and Tony themselves made it evident that they enjoyed being a part of the squad. As Tony put it, "I love my school, and it was just another way to get involved. It was great!"

The Queens May Change, But Tradition Remains the Same

Homecoming has always been one of the major events of Chaffey's traditional activities. 1982 was no exception. The week began with a queen competition. The competition was one in which the candidates had their escorts squirt shaving cream off their noses with water pistols. On Wednesday, the candidates participated in the Queen Rally, where they were introduced to the student body. The next day was spent on last-minute campaigning and participating, in a parade during both lunches. The week's activities came to a climax Friday night at the football game against Alta Loma. It was then that the 1982-83 Homecoming Queen was announced.

For many, the announcement of the new queen was a very joyous and exciting time; for others it was merely a time of great relief. The long days and late nights spent making posters and campaigning were over. That one week seemed like one year to some. In the end, however, every candidate knew it was all worth it.

The suspense mounted on Graber Field November 5th, as the time came for tiger mascot, Lillian Crump, to announce the queen. As Lillian danced animatedly around the queen candidates, the crowd's excitement grew and the tension was sensed by all. At the height of excitement, Lillian bowed before Lisa Benton and the 1982 Homecoming Queen was crowned.

Homecoming Queen was a title that Lisa worked long and hard for. She exhibited her great school spirit by the many activities she participated in during her 4 years at Chaffey. As a freshman, she was a member of Pep Club and the Cross-Country team. Lisa was a J.V. cheerleader her sophomore year and the tiger mascot her junior year. She was chosen as Key Club Sweetheart and was crowned Junior Prom Princess. As Pep Commissioner, a Peer Counselor, and a member of NESC, Lisa's senior year was also very busy. Lisa's title was definitely well-deserved.

Making Us Aware — B.S.U. and

Chaffey has always been a school of many diverse cultures. Because of the wide variety of people, many clubs were formed to make students more aware of the cultures around them. M.E.C.H.A. and B.S.U. are two clubs which have always been a big part of Chaffey's culture.

Black Student Union, more commonly known as B.S.U. were very busy once again. During the year, the club members participated in a number of campus activities that ranged from selling articles on Food Sale Days to sponsoring a Homecoming Queen. Through the month of February, the club sponsored Black Awareness Week. The members organized showcases displaying black culture and staged an assembly. During this week, they had an election for B.S.U. Queen. The 1983 Queen was Crystal Mukes. Crystal has been a member of B.S.U. for 4 years, serving as President her senior year. She also served on the Activities Board for 2 years. B.S.U.'s year concluded with an awards banquet honor-

M.E.C.H.A. was also very active in school activities. The club sponsored Cinco de Mayo week which included a dance and election, and also participated in many food sales selling their famous tamales. The club also was involved with other clubs on other campuses. The members played baseball on Saturdays with the M.E.C.H.A. clubs from surrounding schools. Members also participated in many car washes to raise money for the club.

The 1983 M.E.C.H.A. Queen was Janina Martinez. Janina was a very active member of M.E.C.H.A. for 2 years, providing help and support to her fellow students. She showed great pride in her culture by being such an involved member. Dennis Ruiz summed up the activities best by saying, "Members of B.S.U. and M.E.C.H.A. have become more involved in school activities and became more widely know on campus by other clubs and students."

Association of Student Councils and the California Association of Directors of Activities. This camp gave them many new ideas, such as "skin the snake." This was a new event at Chaffey and went well with the students. Beside coming up with new ideas, the class competition organizers also had to round up students to participate in the competitions. Usually students signed up for the events ahead of time but sometimes they had to be picked out of the stands at the rally. This didn't happen often, because there were many students eager to participate. Vice-President Anne Jenkins commented that, "Class spirit had improved, and had become stronger in all classes, especially with the Freshman."

Making Chaffey a Better Place

▼ Karen Farley and Cindy Gonzalez show their pride in Chaffey as they spend their lunch period selling school spirit items.

Chaffey Service League was made up of a small group of girls who were willing to work towards the betterment of the school. During the year, the club organized the Father/Daughter and Mother/Daughter Banquets. The week before Christmas vacation was Welfare Week, with its fun-filled challenges in which everyday there were sales to organize and activities to coordinate. Christmas Grams, carnations, and lollipops were a few of the items that were sold during the lunchtime sales. The Dutch Auction, a very successful activity, gave all students who participated a great time finding gifts to sell and bidding on gifts to buy.

One of the largest activities that Chaffey Service League organized was Backwards Week and the Backwards Dance. Much hard work and time went into the planning and execution of the dance. At the close of the 1982-83 school year, after all the hard work had been completed, the Chaffey Service League members were left with many lasting memories.

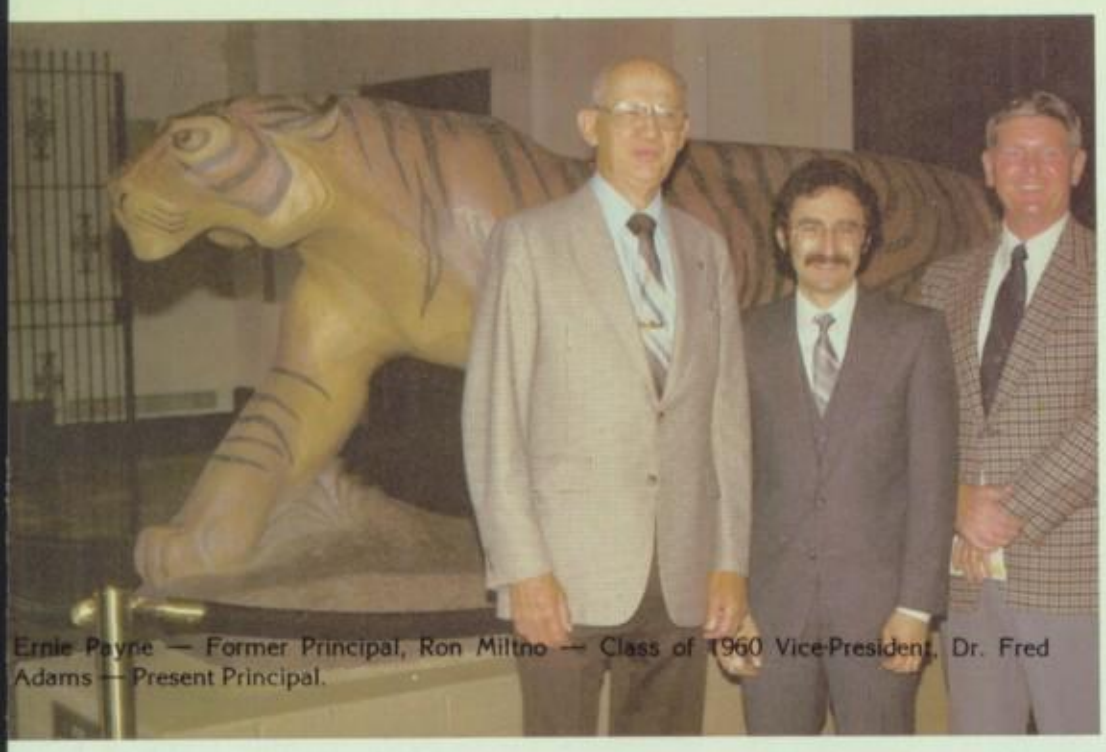
Tiger Back on Display



Ernie Payne — Former Principal, Ron Miltno — Class of 1960 Vice-President, Dr. Fred Adams — Present Principal.

The Chaffey Tiger has long been a symbol of the student body's spirit and pride in its school. In 1960, the senior class presented it to Chaffey as a gift. Through the years, it has been vandalized, and in 1977, its head and tail were broken off. It was then put inside a plywood structure and taken inside the auditorium. At the end of the 1981-82 school year, through the efforts of the Chaffey Alumni Association, enough money was raised to put the tiger back on display.

The association made rebuilding the tiger one of their priorities. Through the efforts of their 695 members, enough money was raised to spend $2,750 on commissioning the original sculptress, Betty Davenport Ford, to resculpt the tiger. The association also generously contributed $2,600 to paint the foyer of the auditorium and $2,200 to put up the large wrought-iron gates.

The Alumni Association has performed many more services for Chaffey, by contributing scholarships to deserving seniors and plans to completely refurbish the library. However, most important contribution of the year, in the eyes of Chaffey students, was its gift of bringing back the tiger.

With dignity and majesty, the tiger symbolizes the pride of Chaffey.

As Backwards as

A full week of excitement was the only way to describe it . . . Backwards Week, 1983. The king and his court were all very active and talented individuals, but only one could be chosen. The Chaffey student body's final decision was Greg Cantrell, sponsored by Pep Squad. The 1983 Backwards Court consisted of Gene Burdwell, sponsored by Keywannettes, Toby Copeland, sponsored by the Senior Cabinet, Amédée Kluser, sponsored by Foreign Exchange Club, and Tim Olague, sponsored by Oddie Hops.

Original competitions were in abundance. If one happened to have a few extra pennies in his pocket, he was encouraged to go vote for the cutest baby picture. Chaffey's favorite new and fresh face was Prince Amédée Kluser. The biggest "shocker" of them all had to be at the rally. The candidates participated in a talent show, in which they lip-synched their "favorite" song. A wide range of music was used. Prince Tim Olgue stunned everyone as he performed "Physical" in a mini-skirt and tights, while Prince Toby Copeland suddenly became the lead singer of KISS. Gene Burdwell tried a different approach with Toto Coelo's "I Eat Cannibals." Greg Cantrell and Amédée Kluser almost instantly became the male heartthrobs, appealing to the ladies of the audience. Prince Greg sang "Here Is My Love," and Prince Amédée shocked us by becoming a clone of Elvis Presley by singing "Honestly, Sincerely."

Lunchtimes festivities followed the traditional Chaffey pattern with the usual parade and the yearly balloon shaving contest, which was held after the elections due to the weather conditions. Toby and Tim proved to be the better shavers by winning during 1st and 2nd lunch respectively.

The longest and most treasured tradition at Chaffey was still upheld. That, of course, was the crowning of the king at the Backwards Dance, held at Chaffey College. Once again, tradition held true as Greg Cantrell was crowned the 1983 Chaffey Backwards King.

Looking rather nervous, Toby Copeland awaits his announcement

He has also been involved in Basketball all four years and has been voted the most valuable player in each of the last three seasons. Greg also set three all-time Basketball records. Peer Counseling — Students Who Care

Along with the many changes during the 1982-83 year came the beginning of a new Chaffey program called Peer Counseling. Peer Counseling involved a group of students, each of whom wanted to help other students with their troubles and problems.

The Program was started last year by Chaffey teacher, Myrna Welsh. After planning it for a long time, Ms. Welsh finally got the program off the ground. Each perspective Peer Counselor was required to apply and participate in an interview in order to be received into the Peer Counseling class. Then, for one semester, the students were taught the techniques of how to counsel another person. Finally, in September, the students were able to set up an office in North Hall expressly for Peer Counseling and begin their work. It took awhile for the teacher and student population to catch on, but the program turned out to be a great success. Chaffey students found it less difficult to talk about their fears and problems with someone their own age. When asked about what she thought of the Peer Counseling program, Jeanne Bond, one of the peer counselors replied, "Peer Counselors are one of the most caring, wonderful, loving group of people a person could ever meet."

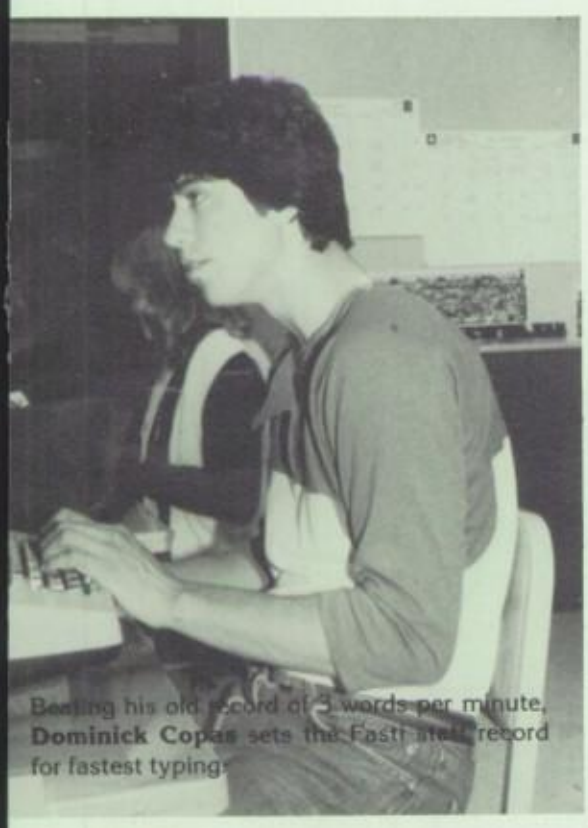
The Life and Times of a Fasti Member

May 24 — I'm now an official member of the Fasti staff. I've just promised to be responsible, punctual, dedicated, and neat for the entire year. I thought I was signing my life away when I wrote my signature on the application . . . Our first meeting consisted of learning the art of distributing yearbooks. Seems easy enough . . .

June 9 — Easy?! The understatement of the year! I've never seen so many crazed students in my life! I'm just thankful I'm standing behind these windows and not in front. But who's complaining, I have my yearbook!

August 13 — Yearbook camp was an experience. Endless classes of copy, graphics, headlines, captions, etc. It wasn't all work, though. I'll never forget "zooming" up State Street for "real" food, stuffing 8 people in a Mazda, our escapade in the water fountain, and Bosco, the killer Mole.



Beating his old record of 3 words per minute, Dominick Copas sets the Fasti staff record for fastest typing.

September 20 — I never thought Fasti involved learning so many details! Picas, cropping, bleeding pictures, counting characters, and creating a unique theme to fit this year. My brian actually hurts from brianstorming.

October 1 — Word was just received that the 1981 Fasti was named the sole high school winner in the Printing Industry of America Graphic Arts Award Competition. I hope our Fasti can be just as good, if not better!

October 8 — Tragedy strikes! Our endsheet didn't come out! Now we have to retake the entire shot over! Getting 20 people to show up is much easier said than done.

December 1 — Cindy never told me the horror stories of meeting a deadline. I only spent 4 hours finishing everthing after-school. Mom actually thought I had moved and made my home in SB9. Oh, no! My rough draft for the following deadline is due next week! I'm turning grey at 17!

December 18 — Thank goodness for Christmas vacation! 2 weeks to relax, not to mention the staff party. Can't wait!

January 4 — Back to school and only 5 days to finish the club section. At this point, I'm ready to create names for the unknowns in the Spanish club. HELP!

March 4 — How does Dominick expect me to get my layout and copy in if the season hasn't even begun? Spring Sports must be the hardest job! What do you write about a sport that hasn't even started?

April 15 — With the book now completed, Fasti seems slightly boring. No more rushing to get things done before a deadline. Now comes the period when we wait for the book to arrive. Whoever said patience is a virtue?

May 6 — Advertising for the book is in full swing. Reminders of "Don't be left out" are seen throughout the campus. The annual picture sale brought in a considerable amount of money, along with practically the entire student body. For 3 days, total chaos prevailed! And I thought distribution was bad!

June 8 — Once again came distribution to frazzle my nerves. This time it didn't bother me as much, mainly because I was handing out "our" book and I know how much everyone wanted to see it. Simpson gave the entire staff much deserved pats on the back for a job well done. I will sure miss Cindy, Rose, Dominick, Tracey, Christine, and all the rest of the graduating seniors. We've been through a lot these past 9 months. As a staff, we've grown together and shared many memorable times. I can't wait till next year's book!

◀ John Cardenas, Rachelle Sedore, and Sheila Morris find that job-stamping isn't as exciting as they thought it would be.

Making the Future

During 4th period in Miss Moncla's class, an artistically-inclined student created colorful and original artwork. This student was Chris Allec. Chris first became interested in art when his mother had an antique shop. He then began taking art classes at St. George School. Chris' teacher at St. George liked his work and encouraged him to continue with it. While attending Chaffey, Chris had taken art for 4 years. Of his artistic talent, Chris said, "Because I am a Christian, I feel blessed. It is a gift." Chris planned to carry on his artwork while attending Cal State Fullerton.

Debbie Teresa had been lettering designs and posters for about 5 years. She had been drawing as far back as she could remember. Debbie mostly drew poster designs and objects at Chaffey and planned to continue her artwork at the College of the Desert. Debbie felt, "Doing my artwork made me feel happy. I enjoy doing it."

Dong Wook had been doing many different types of artwork for 5 years. He did drawings and paintings, and also practiced pottery making. Fortunately, Dong Wook had an art teacher that showed him how to develop his own personal style. "I like to draw and create pottery pieces because I can express myself," Dong Wook stated. He planned to continue his art career at Cal Poly University in Pomona.

Kelly O'Brian, a talented lettering and art student, had been drawing for many years and took great joy in what she did. Her favorite art projects were those that were created while she was alone. "S" Club Leads the Rest

Constantly hard at work, the members of "S" Club were dedicated to their school and community. They participated in many service projects throughout the year, such as performing skits and singing Christmas carols at Cal Kursall and Plott's Nursing home. They also helped by being "huggers" at the Special Olympics. A new activity "S" Club undertook was the organizing of a fashion show, which was sponsored by the May Company.

At the weekly meetings, members found the time to have fun while organizing upcoming events. Anyone on campus at the time of their meetings was sure to hear shrieks of laughter coming from Homemaking 163. "S" Club members never lost their sense of humor. Their sparkling wit was obvious when they displayed the banner that boldly proclaimed, "Upland Eats Quiche!" All through the football season, the players left the banner up to keep their spirits high.

In Tune With Nature

NESC has always been one of Chaffey's largest clubs. The students joined NESC because of the many trips that the club went on. The members of NESC had the chance to visit Mt. San Gorgonio, Joshua Tree National Monument, Death Valley, Grand Canyon, Yosemite, and Catalina. These trips provided the perfect opportunity for the members to learn about the various areas that compose their environment. NESC's main purpose was to provide students with an outdoor education and to gain a new outlook on outdoor life.

Keywanettes, a new club on the Chaffey campus, consisted of 21 female members and was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Ontario. Its purpose was to provide service to the school and community through leadership training and group activities. The Keywanettes participated in the Special Olympics, the March of Dimes Walk-a-thon, and a Telethon for Cerebral Palsy.

Key Club, a long-standing club at Chaffey High School, was committed to serving the school and the community. The members, who enjoyed helping other people, participated in many activities throughout the 1982-83 year. Always Building Upward

The purpose of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is to prepare students to be leaders in the working world. One way of showing its leadership was having the students participate in vocational trades against other schools. Some competed in the Skill Olympics, where they competed at local, state, and national levels. VICA's goal was to make the club something everyone could benefit from. It offers any students on campus the opportunity to expand his talents for future use. VICA also had a VICA day where they offered their services to the benefit of Chaffey. One service included helping put in the cement slab in the former locker area.

The Shakespeare Society was a unique club at Chaffey. The club, advised by Mrs. Roberta Lehman, met once every 2 weeks. During these meetings the members of the club read and discussed Shakespeare's plays. The club provided students with knowledge of Shakespeare, and the period in which he lived. During the year, the club went to see various plays for their enjoyment.

Cultural Contributions

BSU and MECHA have been a part of Chaffey's tradition since the early 1970's. They both served as a way for members to take pride in their cultural background and to share it with other students. Many members were drawn to the clubs because they gave them an opportunity to feel like they were a part of the school by participating in various activities. The clubs worked toward their goal of promoting cultural awareness in the student body with their own cultural weeks, during which they sold traditional food and held an assembly. They also worked to become part of Chaffey's mainstream activities by supporting Homecoming queen candidates and by having more representatives in student government. As Dennis Ruiz, the advisor of both clubs for the last 3 years, put it, "The club was meant as a vehicle to promote education and to become a part of the high school mainstream."

Living a Year in a New Country

Amédeé Kluser clutches his clarinet and smiles with pride

Amédée Kluser, the foreign exchange student from Naters, Switzerland, arrived in Ontario during the summer and became an official Chaffey High School student for one year. His host family was Judge and Mrs. Hildreth, whose son, Rusty, was a freshman at Chaffey. When asked how his school, Kollegium Spiritus Sanctus, differed from Chaffey, Amédée replied, "There are less students, less activities, no yearbook, and no school sports teams. Also, the students can't choose any of their own classes." His school, however, did have a marching band in which he played the clarinet. He was also a member of the Chaffey marching band and was honored with being elected Band King for the 1982-83 school year. In addition to band, Amédée enjoyed skiing, swimming, and participating in a first aid club and a youth group. Prior to leaving home, Amédée was filled with anxieties about coming to the United States to live with a new family. However, once he arrived, he found the people open and congenial. In Ontario, he discovered the excitement of Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor, the movies, and parties. He also noticed great differences between Ontario and his hometown, Naters. While discussing his hometown, he stated, "There is NO smog," which he found hard to get used to when he first arrived. In all, Amédée's stay in California left him with numerous memories to keep forever.

Ontario, California, was Véronique Delaporte's destination as she left Dunkerque, France, to become a foreign exchange student at Chaffey High School for the 1982-83 year. She stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Huber, whose daughter, Patti, was a senior at Chaffey. During the year, Véronique was a member of the Activities Board, the French Club, and the J.V. Volleyball team. She found that one main difference between Chaffey and her school, St. Denis, was that in France they had 8 hours of instruction each day, and 2 hours of sports each week. Unless students were members of a special club, they did not compete in sports. Véronique stated, "We don't have a dance club, activities board, or other things like that." At St. Denis, she took such classes as English, economics, and government, along with 9 other classes. During her stay in California, Véronique went to a variety of places. She visited Disneyland, Hollywood, and Universal Studios, to name a few. Véronique's year abroad presented her with different kinds of people and life styles for her to share at home with her family and friends.

Building Their Way to the Top

Mr. Bertucci shows Allen Wooten how to properly router a cabinet door.

Once again for the ninth year in a row, three of Chaffey's Industrial Arts classes combined to build a house. The three classes involved were Building Construction, led by Mr. Herrera; Cabinet Making with Mr. Bertucci in charge; and finally Residential House Wiring with Mr. Zmolek and his crew.

It was a long year for the approximately 60 students who were involved with building the house. They started in early September and ended in late May. The house, located in Montclair next to Montclair High School is fully modern with a solar water heater, tile roof, and a garage that is separate from the main house. The area of the house is approximately 1,600 square feet and when it is completed, it will sell for $80,000.00 to $85,000.00. The students completed about 85% of the work with the rest being completed by outside help. The students worked for up to 3 hours every morning and sometimes even on Saturdays on this project. The construction was kept under close watch by state inspectors who made sure that everything was up to the proper standards.

With three different classes involved, the jobs had to be divided between them. The Building construction class was responsible for the construction of the house both inside and outside. They also built the garage and placed the tile roof on securely. The wiring class did all the wiring on the house, including the lights and fixtures inside of the house. The Cabinet Making class made all of the cabinets for the house and even most of the woodwork.

With the combined efforts of all three classes, the house was successfully built and sold, with these students achieving their goal for the year.

Their Acting Ability

The 6th period Play Production class put on two very captivating dramas during the 1st semester. One play was entitled "Rocking Chairs" by Alfred Kreymborg, while the other was headed "The Wonder Hat" by Ben Hecht and Keneth Sawyer Goodman.

"Rocking Chairs" centers around two women, Mrs. Boyle and Mrs. Alms, played by Kathy Spinelli and Sharon Pula, who sit in rocking chairs gossiping about Mrs. Berry, alias Roxanne Parent, "the lady in the red hat." The gossip changes moderately throughout the play. The drama ends with a fanciful scene between Katydids, who imitate the farout gossip of the ladies.

The other stage play the class did was "The Wonder Hat" whose main characters were Harlequin, performed by Roger Gee, and Columbine, portrayed by Lisa Felix. This production is a comedy-fantasy about fickle lovers who fall in love with the help of an old merchant who sells "new love for old." Although many complications arise, the lovers are destined to live "happily ever after."

Members of both cast work together to produce two enjoyable dramas.

Two students, Julie Stone, and Kathy Spinelli, had different feelings about the experience of performing in the plays. As Julie stated, "We had a lot of fun laughing at and with each other." Kathy, on the other hand, added more seriously, "It's not just performing a part, it is becoming the part."

"The Step mother" was one of the plays performed by the Performing Arts Department. It involved a well-know novelist, Cora Prout (Kathy Spinelli). Cora is upset with her lover, Dr. Tom Gardner (John Cardenas), because she thinks he wrote a degrading article about her writing. As it turns out, the author of the article is Cora's son, Adrian (Roger Gee), who is having an affair with Cora's secretary, Christine Feversham (Carissa Mace). In the end, all is resolved, both couples are happy, and Adrian has his mother's blessing. John Cardenas commented on his participation in the play, "It gave me a chance to express myself and I had a lot of fun!"

"Home at Six" involved a man, John (Paul Mendoza) who has a family that, when he is away at work, changes into their alter egos. John's wife, Kit (Sharon Pula) is a nymphomaniac and having an affair with John's best friends, Bob Greene (Dan FitzSimmons), a well-known wife-stealer. His mother, Grams (Teri Perez), is a drug addict, and his son, Tami (John Griffith) is a drunk. He also has a daughter, Marge (Judy McCormick), who is a pyromaniac, and a maid, Maude (Angie Taylor), a kleptomaniac.

John comes home early one evening to find that his normally "sane" family has turned into a family of psychos. The play then goes on to deal with John's feelings about his family when he finds out what they are really like.

The Only Way to

▼ The two "ugly" stepsisters look on as the third gossips about poor Cinderella.

▼ Christmas is the perfect time for the choir to exhib their singing talent.

As the holiday season crept up very slowly, most students were thinking of their vacation and what a relief it would be not to have teachers to deal with. For the performing art students, it meant working hard for the Holiday Fling. The band, choir, drama, and modern dance classes were very impressive in their performances.

Jack Mercer, the band instructor, was very busy during the holiday season. He not only prepared the band for games and rallies, but also managed to get some seasonal songs ready for the Holiday Fling. He stated, "Their enthusiasm was contagious. The Holiday Fling was good enough for a repeat performance."

The choir, which Carl Walters directed, also contributed much to the Fling. When asked his opinion of it, he stated, "It was very exciting to see so many people work together for a successful program."

Marian Miller, who has been in charge of modern dance for many years, put on a wonderful program. Of her dancers she thought, "It was great to see the dancers give an extra smile when the audience applauded."

At last, we saw another exciting and witty performance by Nelson Palmer's Play Production class. The hilarious skit of "Cinderalla Yorgensen" had the audience crying with laughter. Contributing to this laughter was Kathy Spinelli, otherwise know as the Fairy Godmother, making her way through the aisles with the ringing of her cowbell. Mr. Palmer commented on his performers, "I thought they were exceptionally energetic and funny in the Cinderella spoof this year."

This Holiday Fling turned out to be a pleasant and catchy surprise. It was the perfect way to start off a holiday season.

"It is a "joy" to work with all the dancers," stated Marian Miller, who taught Modern Dance at Chaffey. Her classes consisted of many hardworking and talented dance students who participated in the ever-popular Holiday Fling and other assemblies throughout the school year. Another aspect of Modern Dance at Chaffey was the Orchesis Club, first organized by Marian Miller, in which the dancers choreographed and performed their own dances. One of these student-composed routines was called "Dances We Have Danced," a statement of special and everlasting friendships, done by Janice Evans, Teri Fitzgerald, Lori Villocino, and Jodi Webb. Above all, Modern Dance allowed these four girls and all the other dancers to express themselves creatively and to communicate through dramatic and graceful moves.

Stars Behind the Scenes

Stage crew works hard in helping with another Chaffey performance.

Since the stage crew worked behind the scenes, students didn't see all the hard work that went into the stage crew's job. Members of stage crew had to be interviewed to make sure they had some amount of interest in working in the crew. The stage crew was responsible for all the lighting, curtain-pulling, and music in the school programs. There were 6 students in stage crew and some of them advanced so far that they were working for pay.

Mr. Nelson, advisor to stage crew, viewed the work as "another form of performing," as the members were able to be involved in theater work without having to be skilled in acting. He, was involved in the stage crew when he was a student at Chaffey. This was his 9th year of advising stage crew.

The start of a new beginning had taken place with 14 of 17 non-seniors from last year declining to return for another season of tennis. The initial matches proved very traumatic for those who were in their first year of competitive tennis. Lack of confidence due to the opening matches was later replaced with spirited effort resulting in great personal improvement.

The high point of the season was when Chaffey beat St. Lucy's, 10-8, after losing a previous match, 3-15, to them, thus keeping the team from sole possession of the cellar.

The individual spotlight must be cast to Katie Steritz, who after a year layoff, turned out to be one of the top 4 players in the league. Her 18-6 record with just 3 matches left, saw two-thirds of her losses coming against the top 3 players in a very tough baseline league.

Cross Country Stays One Step Ahead

▼ In a long grueling race, Dana Bylsma leads the pack.

The Girls' Cross Country Team, having many young runners, proved successful throughout the year. The team which was made up of outstanding runners should prove to be very competitive in future meets.

Sophomore, Dana Bylsma had a good season receiving medals in each invitational she ran. Dana would have had a very strong finish, except for injuries late in the season.

Two unlikely long distance runners Kimm Middleton, a sprinter, and Carol Lord, a shotputter, improved their times weekly. Freshmen, Amy Van Fleet and Louise Montoya also received medals in J.V. invitationals. 1st year runner, Wendy Hurd, who ran very well, should prove to be an excellent runner in the future.

The 1982-83 Boys' Cross Country team had a successful season finishing 4th in the competitive Baseline League.

The team competed in 7 dual meets and 4 invitationals. The team finished with a record of 3 wins and 4 losses. After losing their first 4, the team had better results thanks to a late comer, the phenominal freshman George Fierro. George had an outstanding year finishing the season 8th in the finals. Other standouts for the Tigers were, juniors, Dave Esslinger and Damon Lopez, finishing 11th and 14th respectively in the league. High expectations came from Coach, Gary Ovitt, who, having the youngest team in the league, was highly favored for league championships in the future.

Giving It Their Best Shot

"Exciting" was one word used to describe the 1982-83 Volleyball team. Displaying great enthusiasm and team effort, the Tigers placed 16th out of 65 teams in the Desert Volleyball Classic held in San Bernardino. The team ended the season with a 9-5 record — 1 win short of entering C.I.F. Coach Kevin Flaherty stated, "They kept themselves in contention for C.I.F. all the way up until the last game of the season, then Claremont beat Don Lugo in a highly protested game that was replayed."

Team members themselves honored each other by voting for those players who displayed outstanding skills. The Most Valuable Player Award went to Bonnie England, Best Offensive Player, Jackie Taylor, Best Defensive Player, Rhonda Jones, and Best Spiker, Annette Stump.

When asked her opinion of the team in general, Jackie Taylor replied, "I think our team was great. There was a lot of skill and everybody could play any given position."

A Learning Experience

The J.V. Volleyball team's record, 4-8, did not necessarily reflect the caliber of ability the team had. They had a successful year, not in the way of winning every game, but successful in the way that they learned many new skills. The team members learned to work as a team, as well as improving individual skills. Kim Cohn stated, "Each person still has a lot to learn but most have gotten a very good start."

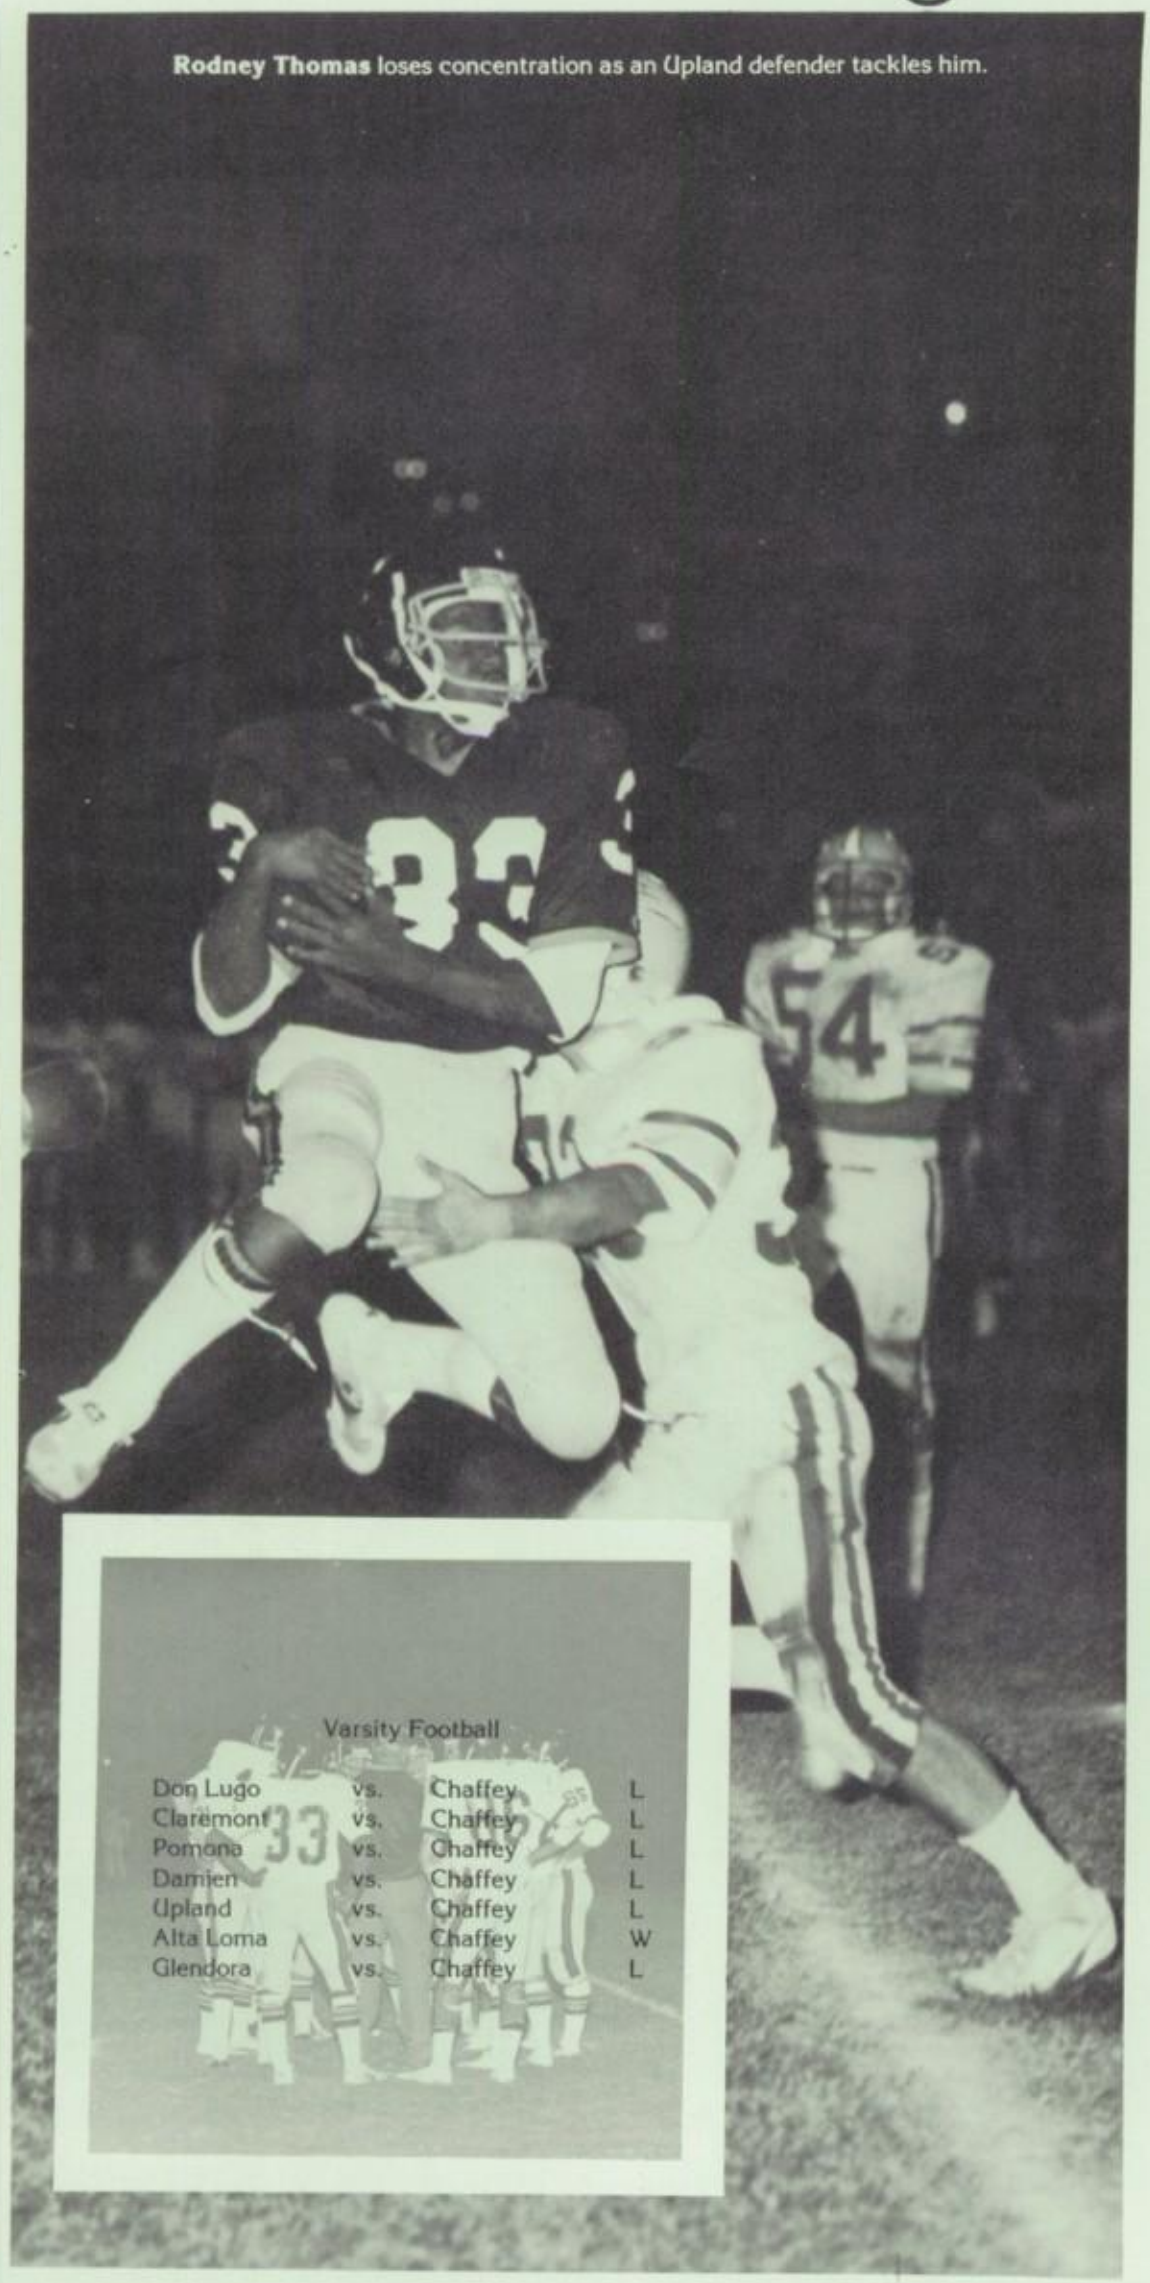
Through Thick and Thin, Tigers Hang Tough



Rodney Thomas loses concentration as an Upland defender tackles him.

A close game with Eisenhower and a win against Nogales helped to counteract the defeat against Redlands. The Chaffey Tigers ended their preseason play with positive aspirations against Baseline League opponents. Don Lugo tested the Tigers, however, with a 35-6 defeat and set quarterback Bob Martin on the sidelines with a broken collarbone for the rest of the season.

Many of the young men on the Chaffey squad played well and deserved better than the 2 and 8 record with which they finished. The final three games of the season showed what they were made of. By that time, they knew that there was no post-season possibility, and played their best games of the year.

The contest against Upland was not decided until the final minutes, which ended with Chaffey receiving the short end of the stick. Alta Loma brought the Tigers a Victory, and in the last game against Glendora, the Tigers played their best defensive game of the year. Many talented young men played on this squad, and many of them will return for next season.

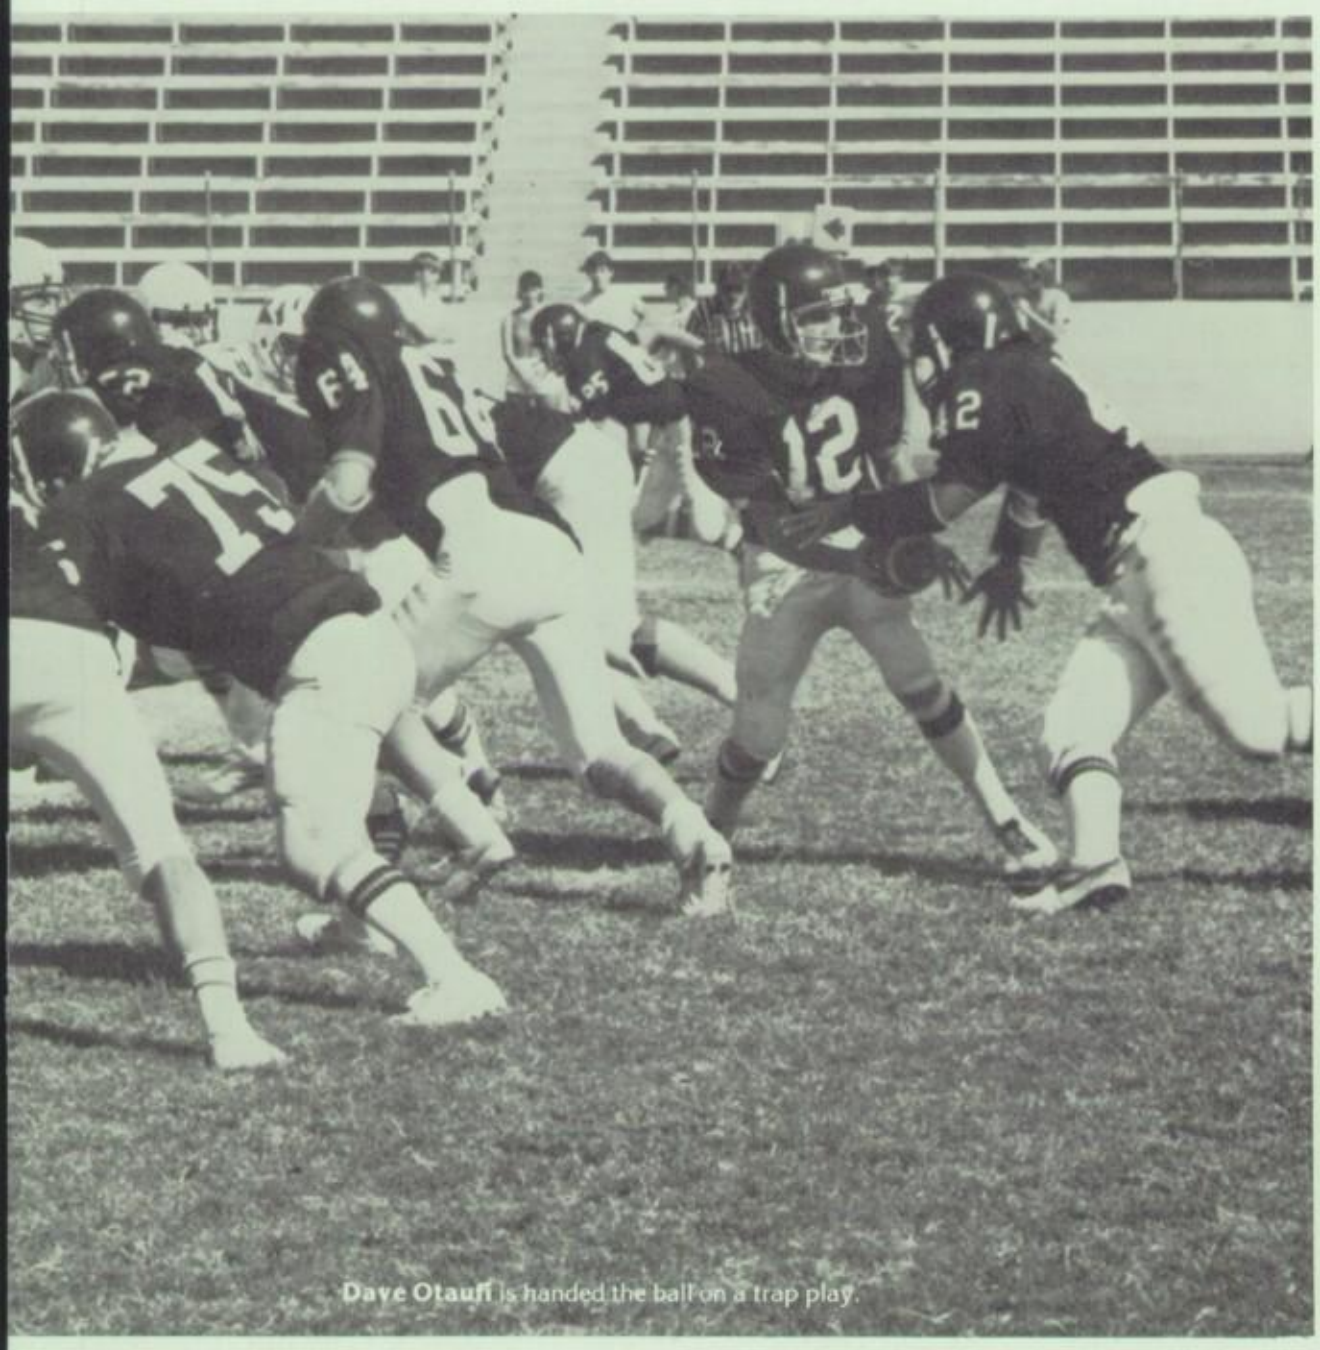
J.V. Team Gets Raw Deal



Dave Otauff is handed the ball on a trap play.

The J.V. team received the short end of the stick in the 1982-83 football season. Not knowing who their next opponent would be, the J.V. Tigers had to sit and wait. Waiting for the chance to play was probably the most depressing thought for the young Tigers. Playing our arch rival, Redlands High School, the young Bengals split the two-game series, winning the first one 7-6, and losing the second one 14-10.

The sophomore football team, which served as the J.V. team in league games, had a very successful season finishing in a third place tie with Glendora. The team compiled a 4 win, 2 loss, and 1 tie record. The overall record for the year was 4-5-1, with all losses closely contested.

Outstanding performances were achieved by quarterback, Kirk Olsen, halfbacks, Andy Greer, Dave Martinez, and Barry Collins. Outstanding pass receivers were Randy Galvez, Billy Wilkerson, and Dan Christian. The defensive unit was sparked by the participation of Mike King, Ryan Smith, and J. J. Vaivas. In addition, the strong defensive line added much to the team's overall record.

All of these outstanding players, as well as the rest of the team, contributed great effort to achieve a successful year.

Outstanding Freshman Accomplishment

The 1982-83 freshman football team, in the words of Coach Graham, was "outstanding." Of their 8 games, all were won, with only 2 touchdowns were scored against them. Their closest game of the year was against Upland, who they also beat. Although the whole team was outstanding, a few standouts came forth. The player voted most inspirational was Jay Agapay. A common sight was Jay leading the team as his father cheered him on from the sidelines. Other outstanding players were Randee Bybee, Paul Olive, Chico Garcia, and Scott Stark.

Coaches, Mr. Graham, Mr. Anderson, and Mr. Lara, were very involved with the team. They proved instrumental in the team's successful year. Together, the coaches and team combined to form what has become the best freshman football team in the entire West End.

Many Tigers Among the Wild All Baseline League Teams

The Tigers landed six players on the All-Baseline League teams for the 1982-83 season. Annette Stump gained this honor for her excellence in Volleyball, George Fierro for going the distance in Cross-Country, and James Meza, Ron Barksdale, Frank Porto and Lance Johnson for sticking it out in Football.

If there was to have been a Volleyball Clinic, Annette Stump could have done it all by herself. Annette was fundamentally sound, but exceptionally strong in hitting and blocking. These skills led her to be accepted on the 1st Team All-Baseline League. Annette was quoted as saying, "Volleyball has been very, very good to me!"

George Fierro landed a spot on the 1st Team All-Baseline League picks team. George, in only his freshman year, single-handedly captured the MVP award for varsity Cross-Country. George's best time was 15:49 for the 3 mile. "With a little effort, we could have went further," George stated.

Football stars came in bundles at the end of the 1982 season. Heading the list was Senior, James Meza. Meza captured awards for Most Valuable Player, Best Offensive Lineman, Co-Captain, and 2 Defensive Player of the Week awards. Another veteran to capture an All-Baseline League title was Ron Barksdale. Barksdale received the Most Inspirational player award, and Defensive Player of the Week against Redlands. Leading all the defensive backs was Frank Porto. Frank won a Defensive Player of the Week award also, and was named the West End selection as well as All-Baseline League teams.

The sensational rookie, Lance Johnson, announced his homecomng against rival Upland, when he had 4 quarterback sacks. Lance also lettered in Soccer, where he played center forward, and Track, where he ran the 330 hurdles, and set a freshman school record.

Soccer: Defense Oriented

Heading off the year with a victory over Don Lugo, the Varsity soccer team ranked in the top ten teams of the participating league. With three exceptionally outstanding players on the team, Blenda Selvey, Jackie Taylor, and Cathy Croxford, the team had a tight defense and a strong offense.

Stunning Fontana with a 15-14 win, Anne Jenkins made her mark for the team by blocking three of the five attempts against our goal and successfully prosecuting two for our side. With six of the players leaving, Coach Riley hopes to recruit the best of the J.V.'s for next season which will be a hazardous task.

A Chance to Improve With Age

The soccer team underwent an extreme change by adding a junior varsity team to the line up. The addition of a new coach, Shane Divine, led the girls to a 2 and 5 season.

Being one of the only high schools with a J.V. team, the competition was limited. A mere 20 girls on the squad amazed every opponent they challenged. "I hoped to see the girls improve with age," stated Coach Divine.

The start of the 1982-83 pre-season left the young Varsity Soccer team little to look forward to. As the season progressed, however, these young soccer players greatly improved their ability and attitude. Having only a few returning lettermen made it difficult for the Varsity team to progress in the Baseline League, one of the toughest leagues in Southern California. John Herrera, the new Varsity Coach, predicted a winning season early in the year. He felt, "With dedication and pride, these young Tigers will become winners. Even though the Damien Tournament did not turn out as well as expected, it was a stepping stone toward learning and understanding the challenge of the 1983 season." The Varsity Club went on to defeat Don Lugo, the champions of the 32 team Damien Tournament, at the start of the season.

When he did finally gather a team, the rest of the season went relatively smoothly. Even with many new freshmen and sophomore players, the team played exceptionally well together and seemed like it had been together for a long time.

Always playing tough, hard, and aggressive soccer, the team seemed to come out on top through most of the season. So being used to having winning seasons, Coach Noseworthy did not sacrifice much with the 1983 soccer team.

. . . Bounces Back From

After starting the basketball season on a poor note with three consecutive non-league losses, the Chaffey Girls' Basketball Team bounced back with five consecutive wins, including three Baseline League wins. Coach Reynaga stated, "Even with the lack of Basketball experience, I feel that this year's basketball team will do extremely well in League."

The team had a good combination of speed and height. Sylvia and Tish Fort were among the quickest guards in the Baseline League and Tawanna Terry was among the strongest and most aggressive defensive and offensive rebounders. Helping Tawanna with the rebounding and scoring duties was sophomore, Denna Mulverhill, and juniors, Jackie Arretche, and Becky Patterson.

The great bulk of the scoring came from the guard positions. Both Sylvia and Tish Fort were good outside shooters, could handle the basketball well, and were also fine defensive players. Backing up the Fort Sisters was sophomore, Toi-yan Ison and senior, Bonnie England. Bonnie has played virtually every position from point guard, to forward, to center. Without question Bonnie was the best overall athlete on our team. Although Bonnie had been hurt by not playing basketball the past two years, she made a major contribution to the Chaffey Girls' Basketball program. "Because of the relative lack of experience, I expect this year to be a rebuilding year. We are probably one year away from being a true contender for the Baseline League Championship," stated Mr. Reynaga.

Coach Evans talks over game plans with two of his players.

In mass confusion Chaffey puts the ball in the air and comes out ahead.

The 1982-83 edition of the Junior Varsity Boys' Basketball team had two sophomores break into the starting lineup. Paul Sperling, a quick left-handed guard, and Ron Scheenstra, a 6'1" hard working forward, both had Varsity potential. Rounding out the starting five were juniors David Campio, Ben Mopera, and Pete Echavarria. Due to the lack of team size, the JVs tried to utilize a fast break game. Reserves always played a key role in the JV victories. Comming off the bench to provide needed help were Donny Brubaker, Sam Rodriguez, Erik Adams, David Evans, and Tim Christian.

Ben Mopera surrounded by defensive players still finds room for two.

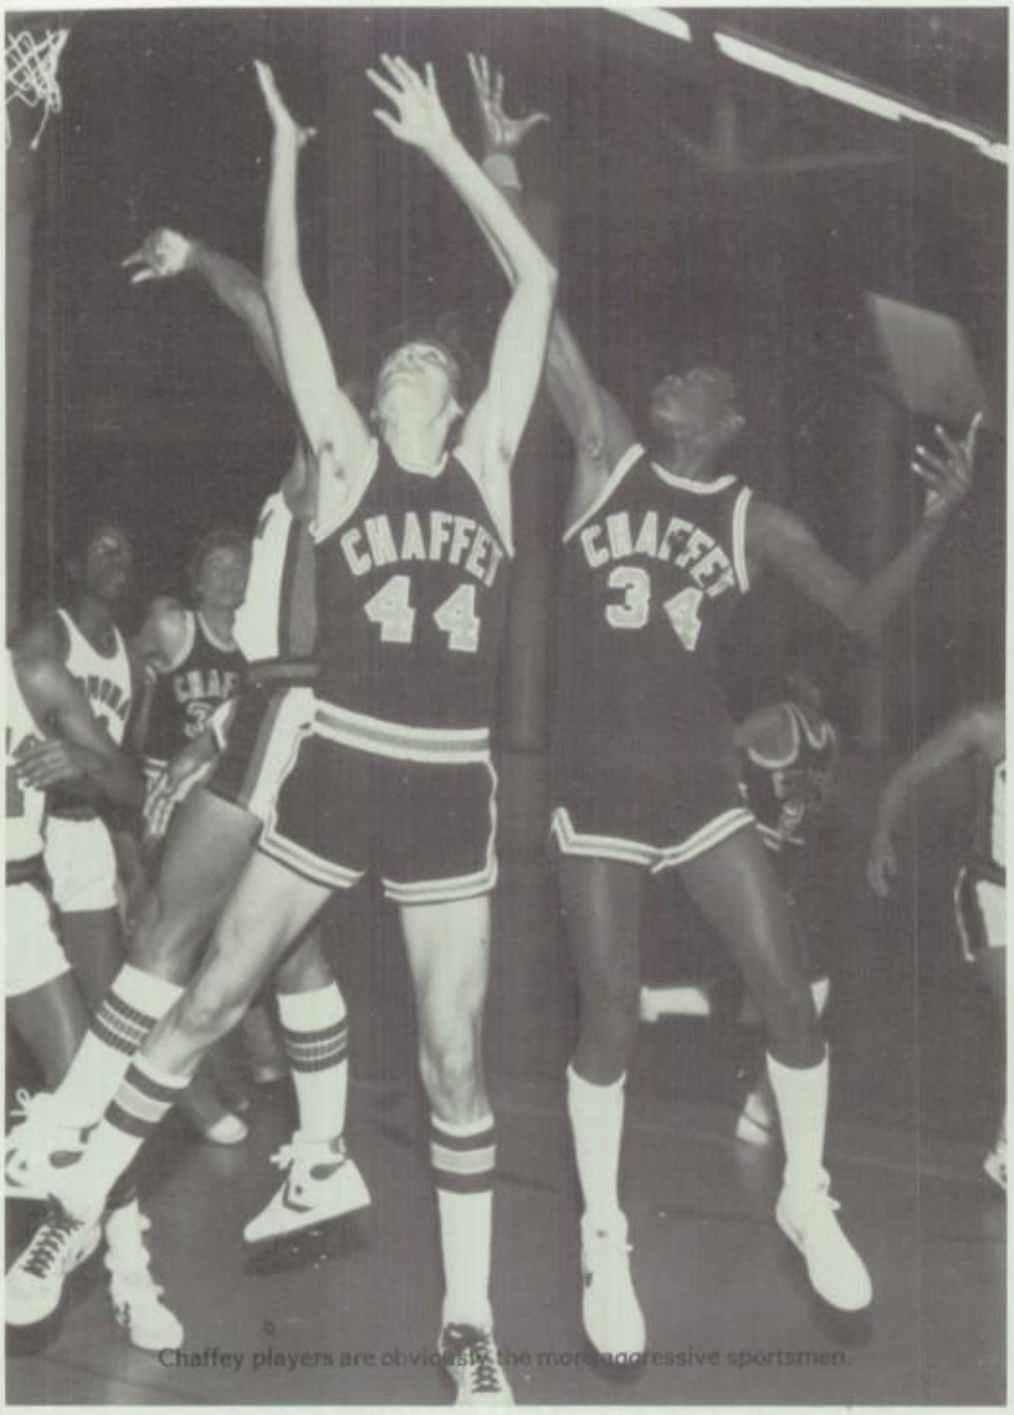
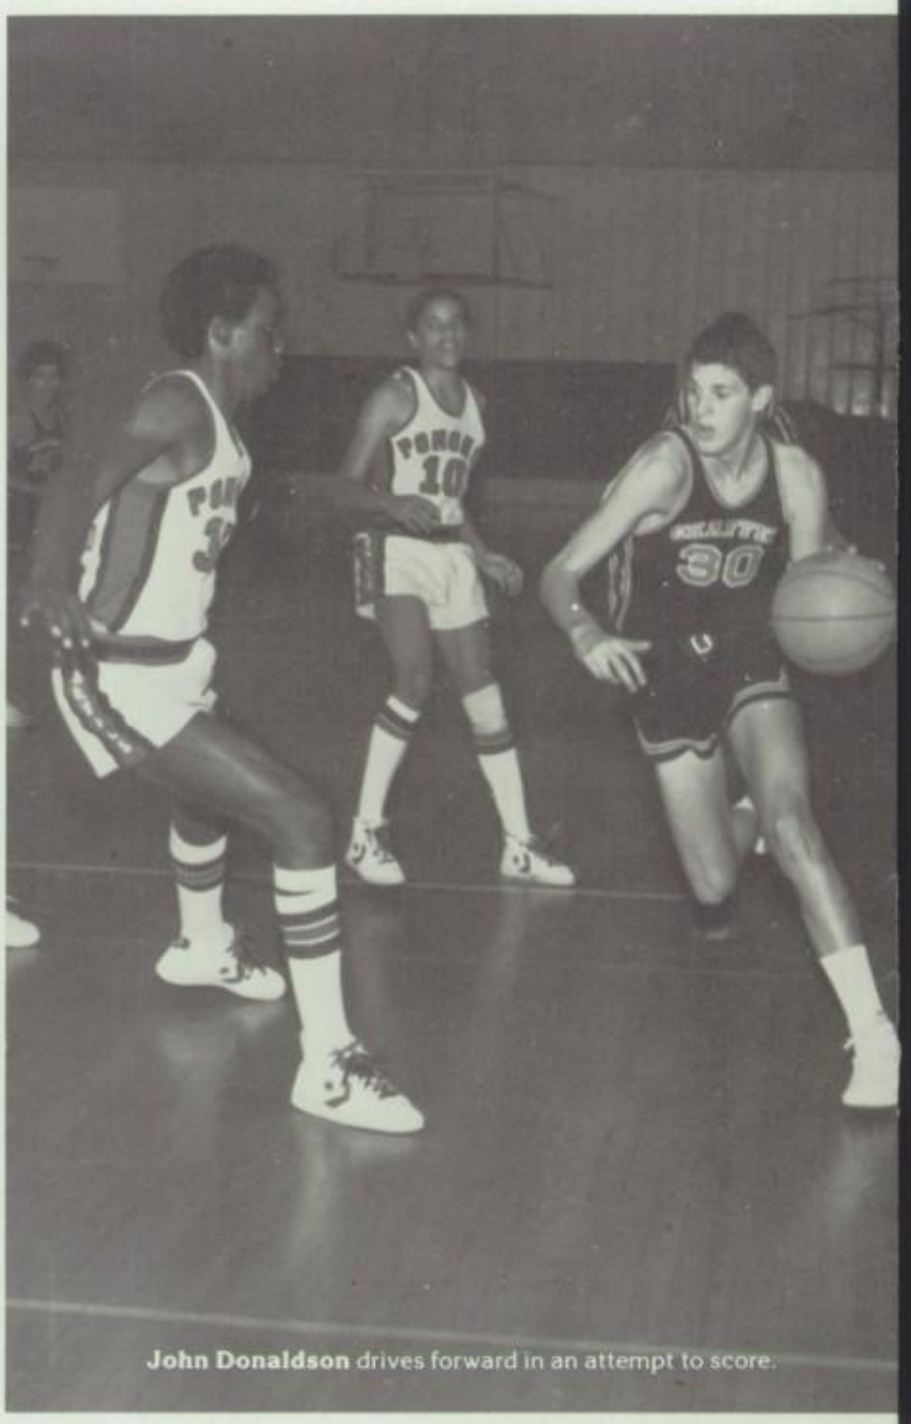
Effort Produces Results



Chaffey players are obviously the more aggressive sportsmen.



John Donaldson drives forward in an attempt to score.

The 1983 team faired well in many of their league games. The team was coached by two off-campus coaches, Chauncey Mann and Chris Herbert. A few outstanding players were #40, Danny Christian, #44, Mark Buck, and #24, Bill Wilkerson. The combined effort of these players, the whole team, and their coaches proved to be a winning combination.

The Freshmen Basketball team's impressive start in 1983 was due to many different factors. The team's record was 12 wins and 4 losses. They also won the Bonita Freshman 16-team Tournament. Their success was due to the individual efforts of both Cedric Thomas and Scott Stark, as well as many other outstanding players. Another advantage that the Chaffey team had over many of the other teams was their coach, Gary Chilcott. Coach Chilcott has been coaching the team for 5 years. With all of these advantages, the year looked very promising for the freshmen team.

February 26, 1983, marked the advent of the first Chaffey Alumni Baseball Game. The marathon contest which ran from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. for a total of 30 innings, pitted former Chaffey players againt a combination of present Chaffey team members. These team members were from all three teams — Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Freshmen.

The alumni emerged from the event as narrow victors with a 27-26 victory. The alumni captains were Wayne Redfearn, class of 1973 and current assistant varsity baseball coach, Rudy Gomez, class of 1968 and Foreman of the Grounds Department at Chaffey. Other stars from Chaffey's illustrious past who particiated in the game included John Gaylord, Frank DiCrastro, Mike Gatlin, Brad Kramer, Greg Baughman, Robbie Mathews, Ralph Valdez, Marty Davis, Joe Bruno, Rick Fellhauer, Chuck Herron and Jessie Almazon as well as many others. Former varsity baseball coach, Jim Semon was also present to lend moral support to many of his former charges.

The Chaffey squad was led by Captains, Dominick Copas and Bob Martin, along with returning lettermen, Jim Elliot and Rob McCorcle. Through pledges per inning, over $900 was raised for the baseball program.

Tigers Dominate

The 1983 edition of the Chaffey Varsity Baseball team was very successful by sporting a win-loss record equal to none in league play. The team recently achieved a 4th place finish in the 30-team Pomona Elks' Easter Tournament in defense of the previous year's championship.

Returning senior lettermen who had fine seasons, were captains Dominick Copas and Bob Martin. Seniors, Rob McCorcle, Jim Elliot, and Greg Cantrell also contributed greatly to the team's success. Juniors, Lenny Gallardo, Bryan Allen, John Cramton, all pitchers, and Steve Brown, Victor Gonzalez, Tom Hudspeth, Eric Brown, and Larry Yoder, also had good seasons. Prospects for next year's team looked promising due to talented juniors who dominated this year's team.

Hitting Leads J.V.

Because of the outstanding ability of the players on both the freshmen and J.V. teams, a very successful beginning of the season occurred. The overall freshmen record was 5 wins, 1 tie, and 1 loss. This was most likely due to the outstanding hitters. Chico Garcia, Rich Williamson, Scott Stark, and Manual Ramirez were some of the power hitters.

The J.V. team also had an impressive year. The very young team was coached by Mr. Wenger. Excellent hitters on the J.V. team were Mike King, John Johnson, and Randy Galvez.

▼ Blenda Selvy shows the form that led her to fame.

The 1983 Varsity Softball team,defending league champs, returned as league favorites in 1983.

Led by Baseline League's Most Valuable Player, pitcher Blenda Seley, the team was well on its way to repeating its 1982 First Place finish. They won their first three league contests and entered the semi-finals of the Royal Oak Tournament by winning the first two games.

Returning lettermen, All League second baseman, Marlene Papp and catcher, Jackie Taylor joined Blenda Selvey in providing the experienced nucleus and leadership which made this the most respected team in the league.

Early season highlights included Blenda Selvey's no-hitter and the fact that she did not allow more than three hits in any of her first seven games. She was also credited with a second no-hitter for seven innings ending in a three-hit, ten inning shutout.

Added highlights had been sparked by the hitting of Marlene Papp, Cheryl Miedema and Dena Smith and the excellent defensive plays of Bonnie England, Jackie Taylor, Paula Harding, Joyce Belkonen and Veronica Brockus.

This was a very young team comprised of six seniors, two juniors and seven sophomores. The team's success had been greatly due to the combined talents of its members and the traditional Chaffey winning spirit.

▲ Waiting for her turn at bat, Sonja Williams thinks about hitting a home run.

Wendy Robley, Laura Dierbeck, Mary Gross, and Angela Anaya wonder how the umpire could have possibly called the pitch a strike.,

Coach Joe Reynaga expected another good year from the 1983 J.V. Softball team. With Tish and Sylvia Fort providing the leadership roles, the team was in contention for a league title. coah Reynaga stated, "Hitting was our strength, with a number of girls capable of having a good offensive year. With more defensive improvements, I feel that we will be a front runner in Baseline League play." Girls that made major contriutions were Janet Hernandez, Denna Mulverhile, Sonya Williams, Denise Bermudez, and Sharon Allbritton.

After checking his time a tired Thom Hollier can finally relax.

The 1982-83 Boys' Track Team underwent a difficult and trying season. The team experienced one of the largest turnouts in recent histoy at Chaffey. It promised to be a successful year, yet only a few weeks into the season, the new head coach resigned. He was replaced by the Assistant Coach, Mr. Stauffer. With many returning players and some excellent new players, a very promising season looked imminent. Some of the only drawbacks were the bad weather and the sudden change of leadership.

Victor Smith stretches strenuously to try and gain a few precious inches.

The 1983 Chaffey Boys' Track Team was a talented young group of people. Juniors, Damon Lopez and David Esslinger ran in both the mile and two mile races. The team was also strong in the 880 with senior, Tom Hollinger and sophomore Lance Johnson. The strongest events were sprints led by senior, Rodney Thomas and Sophomore, Brian Haith. Sophomore, Andrew Greer led the 440 sprint.

The hurdles were conquered by sophomores Billy Wilkerson and Jerry Smoll. Participants in field events were seniors, Tom Hoon and James Meza in shotput, junior, Chris Parks in the disk, and senior, Rodney Thomas in the long jump.

Anthony Newsome easily clears a hurdle in an attempt to capture another Chaffey victory.

Girls' Track Starts Fresh and New

The Girls' Track Team started slowly, but gradually showed it's true athletic ability. With only six returning team members and many new freshmen and sophomores they did suprisingly well in the many meets.

Returning team members Dana Bylsma, Wendy Hurd, Anna Jenkins, Carol Lord, Kimm Middleton, Sherry Wainright, and Dena Mulverhill gave their best effort and were a great example to all the new sophomores and freshmen that participated.

Kim Middleton shared her feelings on the season, "Even though our team was starting fresh and new, I felt we had a lot of potential and talent. We went through a lot of changes with coaches and team members, but after the shock of it all, we did do well." Sarah Flowerney, a first year member, said "I looked forward to this season being successful for me." Also Kathy Croxford replied, "I was really anxious about the season and hoped the rain would stop."

"I Love It," was the response of one swimmer when asked what she thought about swimming. Starting the season by having the varsity girls medley relay team 5 seconds off the C.I.F. time really got the team enthused about the year. Tara Klootwyk, Melanie Tinsley, Kari Pederson and Cricket Wilson made up the relay team and worked hard every day to improve their times. Coach Marge Plyley stated, "There's more enthusiasum with the kids," and more enthusiasm meant more pleasurable work outs. Cricket Wilson a senior who's knowledge and excellence in swimming was a great asset to the team. Tara Klootwyk a freshman surprised everyone with her skill in swimming. Melanie Tinsley, a sophomore who swam breaststroke, also had a great year acquiring win after win. Kari Pederson, who played soccer, showed her expertise in swimming and swam for many varsity victories. Other outstanding swimmers were Emily Short, Tracey Hubbard and Julie Pearce.

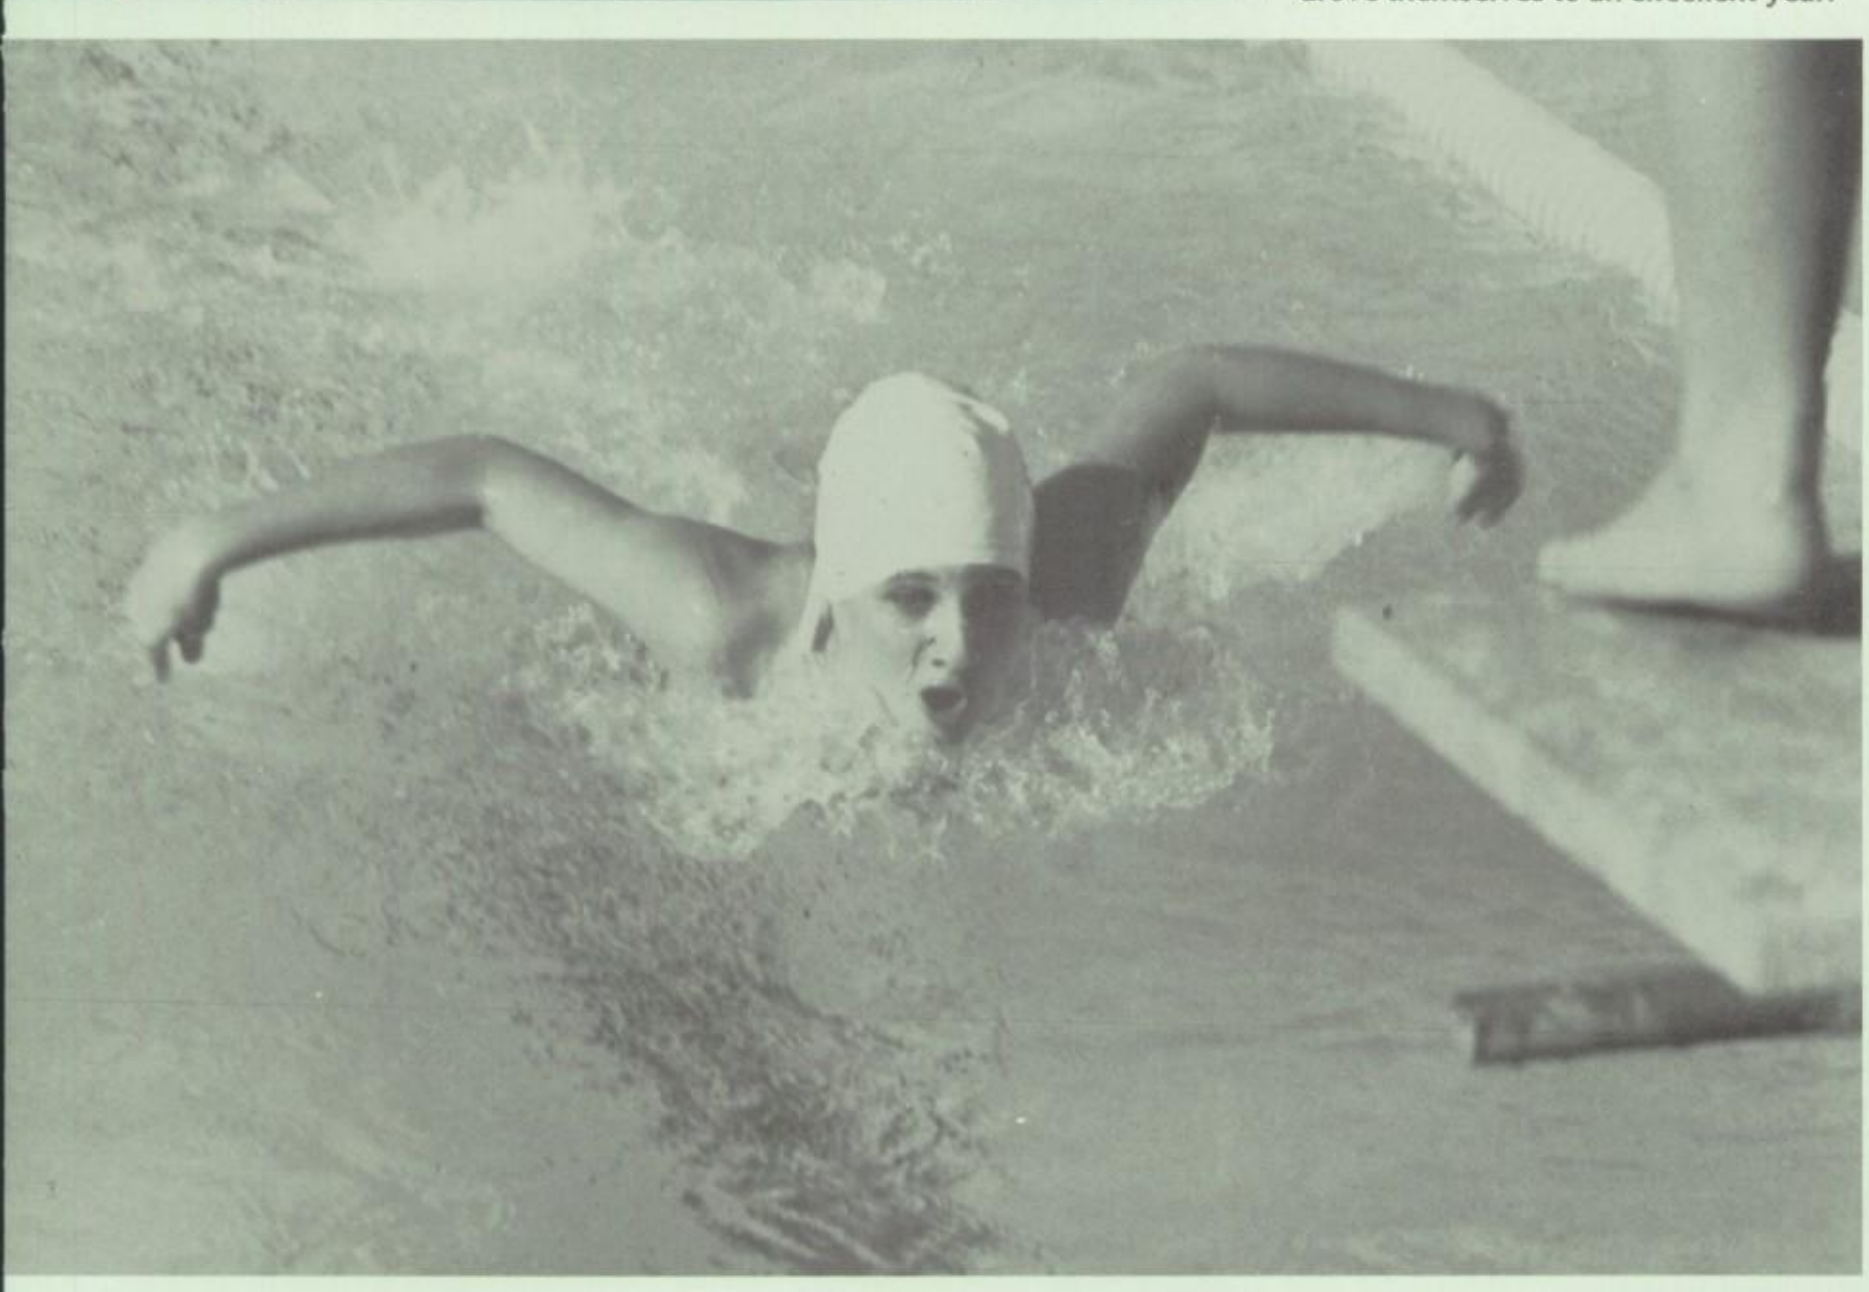
Faster than a speeding dolphin, more powerful than a raging baracuda, able to leap from a starting block in a single bound; it's a fish! it's a shark! no it's Chaffey's swim team!! Having a larger turnout of swimmers then in the past, allowed for better team spirit and harder workouts. Although the beginning of the season was mocked with rain, the team still swam 2-2½ hours a day. The Varsity boys squad was mostly made up of returning swimmers. Among them were Rich "Rocky" Dagley and Russell Miya, both seniors who had C.I.F. potential. Junior, Dan Whelchel is excellence in the breaststroke also helped the eam to a winning season.

The J.V. Boys' team was composed of many young swimmers trying to leave their mark on Chaffey. With much enthusiasm and drive, the swim team drove themselves to an excellent year.



Tara Klootwyk shows nearly perfect from in the execution of the butterfyly stroke.

Dan Whelchel, only a junior, already leads his team in the breaststroke.

Tennis, anyone? Someone? Somebody? Tennis in the rain? Well, that's how things turned out for the 1983 Tennis Team, either because of the lack of players or too much rain. Although there were many returning players at first, as the season progressed, the number dwindled considerably.

Returning players, Tony Beltran and Ron Sheenstra said that Coach Waters had his work cut out for him this year. Coach Waters stated, "By losing Neil McGurty, Harvey Hall, Efrain Espinoza, and Dav Pinard, less experienced J.V. players such as Bill Marsh, Roland Sandquist, Ralph Tomaselli, and Joe Candias, were able to advance to the Varsity level. Despite the losses, we still had a fair shot for C.I.F."

Throughout the season, Coach Waters introduced new drills and exercises to get the team up to the usual high Chaffey standards. "We had to work harder than ever since we lost many of our returning players," stated Roland Sandquist, "but we made it."

Striving for Excellence!

Donny Brubaker is a straight A Student whose aim in life is to be a pro-golfer and have a Jr./Sr. Privilege Card. Donny was the Sophomore Class Treasurer and a member of the Activities Board and J.V. basketball team.

When asked what his goals for Chaffey were, Donny replied, "I would like to see Chaffey have new lockers put in, have a an open campus, and have the boiler room replaced with a McDonald's with 10% of the profits going to the Chaffey High School Sports Fund." Donny has high goals for his friends and himself, as well as for Chaffey. Start Your Engines Please . . .

It was one of the first in a string of events that weakened ties to home the moment a sophomore was handed his or her license to drive. That small piece of paper meant relief and excitement after successfully completing Driver's Ed. and Driver Training. It also meant freedom and a certain amount of prestige. For some, a license was needed to drive to work or to school; for others, having a license just gave an opportunity to impress someone special or simply to "be seen" driving around Ontario.

These "different" people await the debut of the Great Pumpkin.

Individuality

Individual 1) single; peculiar to a person or thing; particular person. Individuality.

Individuality was not an easy thing to attain in a school which housed over 3,000 students. Many students chose to group together with people who shared their common interests. Evidence of this was seen by the various groups represented across Chaffey's campus. At times, it seemed as though many people were trying to "blend in" with everyone else.

There were those, however, who found ways in which to express themselves and yet retain their own identities. Of the sophomores questioned, many felt that their sophomore year had been the turning point for establishing their own idividuality. Sophomore, Bill Herbert, said, "Too many people place too much emphasis on what is done as a group. They should pay more attention to what they are doing themselves."

Jamey Roy carefully thinks through the long day's events, seeming to be unaffected by the commotion around her.

The sophomore class sponsored many activities for the benefit of Chaffey students. One activity was the first after-game dance which proved very successful. Approximately 400 people attended the social. One aspect that affected the turnout of the dance was the music of "The Escorts" whose music provided enjoyment for all.

Freshmen

Getting used to Chaffey's crowds was just one of the many things that freshmen had to undergo.

As the newest edition to Chaffey's Student Government, the Freshmen Cabinet really pulled together. Their first activity was to sponsor an after game dance on February 4. They were the first group to utilize a D. J. (disc-jockey) for an after — game dance. The Freshmen Cabinet also helped with rallies and assemblies during the year.

The adivsors for the class of 1986 were: Earl Miller, Frank Aleman, Jeanne Brondino, Anthony Lehman, and Roberta Lehman.

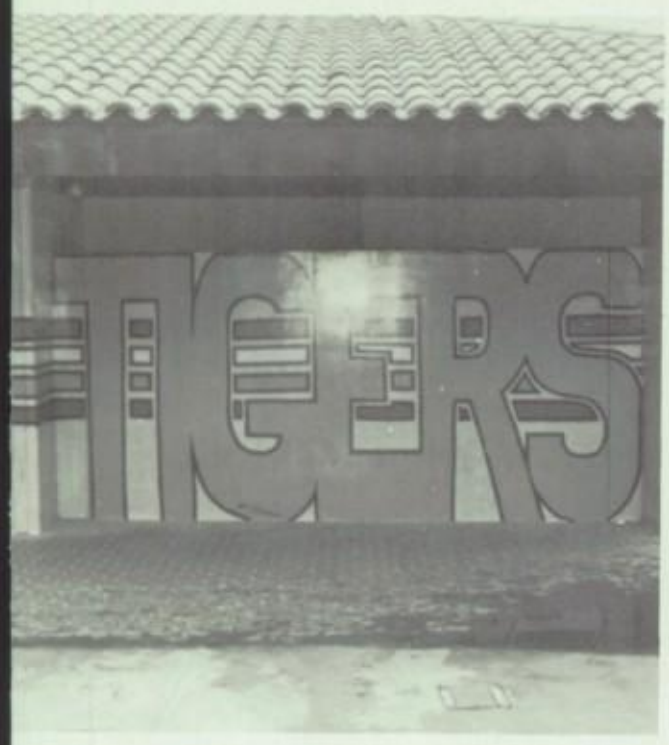
▼ Another form of media was TIGERS blazoned across the locker complex showing Chaffey's spirit to all.



In the News

For some, it was Luke's latest escapades on "General Hospital." For others, it was such noteworthies as the Channel 4 News, The Los Angeles Times, or local radio stations such as KROQ and KLOS. Whatever the source, the media had a definite influence on most Chaffey students. Throughout the year, various forms of media served to entertain and amuse us, to keep us informed, and provide us with information necessary to keep up with current events. This influence was seen on shirts emblazoned with slogans or names of radio stations, and, most notably, on the Boiler Room. The Boiler Room served as a place on which to display one's ideas and opinions on what was happening around them even though it was against school policy to do so.

At times the lack of a source of school media was sorely evident. The lack of a newspaper at Chaffey has taken many things away from the students, including a valuable learning experience and a working knowledge of journalism. Kathy Spinelli, a former Tiger Rag staff member summed it up best by saying: "The most important thing the students miss is the freedom to express themselves openly."

An experience common to all Chaffey students was that of being a freshman. Freshman year was known to be a time of adjustment. Students had to adjust to the strangeness of a new campus, the many new faces, and to the realization that they have 3 more years of crowded halls, cafeteria food, and . . . fun to endure. Freshman, Larry Shoup, stated, "Freshman year wasn't bad, but I'm sure looking forward to being a senior!" Like Larry, many freshmen viewed their first year at Chaffey as a "waiting period" — waiting to grow and learn, and above all, waiting to become seniors.

Upperclassmen did not always take the kindest view of Chaffey's fledglings. It sometimes seemed as though they forgot that they were once freshmen, too. While the freshmen and upperclassmen did not always understand each other, one thing held true: today's freshmen are Chaffey's promise for the future.

"All work and no play . . ." Mr. Palmer can be heard saying.

Adele Vinciguerra and Bonnie England take a well-deserved break after a long day's work.

Mr. Shores can be seen daily in his favorite habitat.

Industrial Arts

After completing his twenty-eighth year as a Metal Shop teacher at Chaffey, Mr. Shores had become a favorite among his students. After attaining his Associate Arts degree at Fullerton Jr. College, and his Bachelor's degree at the University of California at Santa Barbara, he then graduated from Long Beach State with a Master's Degree in teaching.

During his free time, Mr. Shores boarded horses and ran his 180 acre farm in Alta Loma. He would like to see Chaffey continue to build the Industrial Education program here.

Although he claims to be very strict, his students respected him because of the great deal of trust he had in everyone. "If I had to do it all over again, I would still be a teacher. I think the kids are great."

Mrs. Patterson assists her students in their occasional work dilemmas.

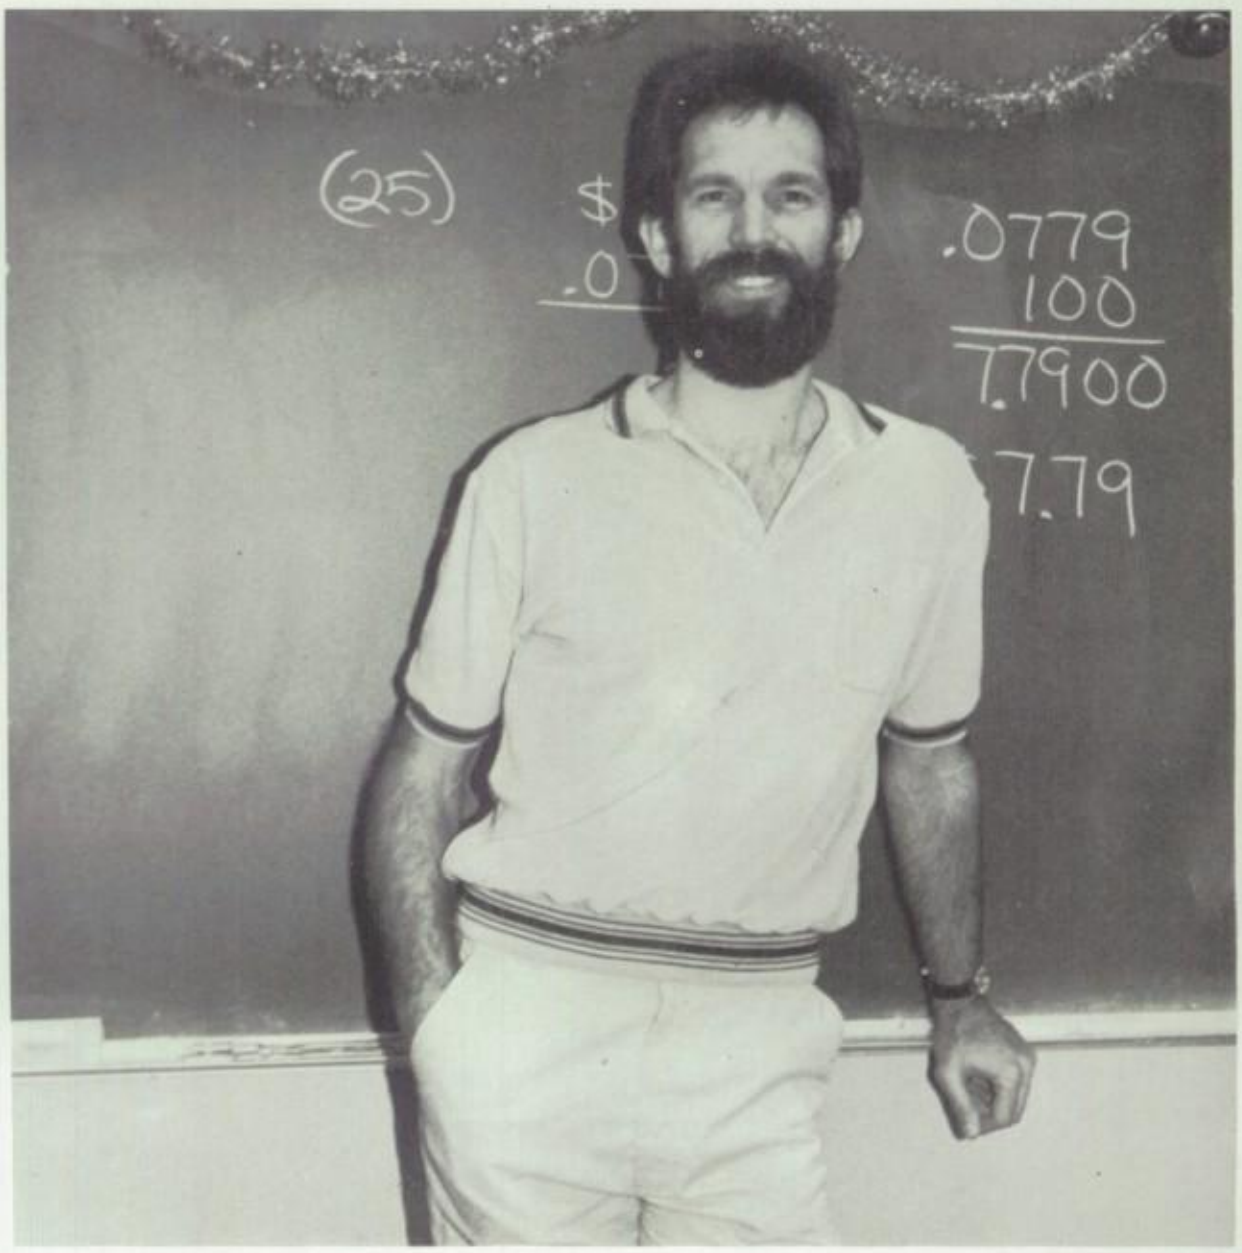
Get A "Grip" In Math

When seen on campus, he appeared to be a tall, bearded and reserved man, but when in his class, one discovered that Bruce Grip was a warm and humorous person who loved working with his students. Motivated by a love for students and a desire to make their high school years a worthwhile experience, he obtained his Bachelor's degree in Cal Poly in 1975 and has been teaching at Chaffey ever since.

Mr. Grip's teaching was strongly influenced by his religious beliefs. He took over the role of advisor for S.W.A.P. (Students With A Purpose) when he came to Chaffey. S.W.A.P. took on a new name, Maranantha, but the purpose remained the same. Mr. Grip attempted to help meet the spiritual needs of students and provide an opportunity for Bible study and fellowship. In addition to Maranantha, Mr. Grip was also advisor for Pep Squad in 1976-77.



Mr. Franciso takes his work seriously.

Mr. P.E.P.

Mr. Partington has been teaching for 24 years, 4 of these in Guam, and 20 in the Chaffey District. Mr. Partington taught at Montclair High School for 1st and 2nd periods. This was an inconvenience and a disappointment for him because he spent most of his conference period traveling. As a result, he lost the opportunity to teach the 1st period advanced Spanish class at Chaffey. Besides teaching Spanish, Mr. Partington has also taught world history, geography, and boys' physical education. One of his main ambitions was to be a coach. In the past, he has coached the basketball and tennis team at Chaffey, as well as Upland, Alta Loma, and other high schools.

Mr. Partington stated, "I prefer teaching at Chaffey because I like its tradition, its size, and the fact that there are still a sufficient number of serious students to make my assignments challenging, satisfying, and pleasurable."

Ready to Help

Myrna Welsh was actively involved with the students of Chaffey High School. As an instructor for Chaffey's Consumer Homemaking Department, she taught Clothing and Textiles, Advanced Sewing, and Human Relations. She has been advisor of the campus "S" club for the past four years, and has devoted much of her outside time to helping with service projects for the needy.

Last year, Miss Welsh's pet project, Peer Counseling, began. Peer Counseling had been a dream of Miss Welsh's for several years, but it was not until last year that the dream was realized. Students prepared to be Peer Counselors by undergoing a semester-long training period. This included class workshops, discussions, and guest speakers. Miss Welsh felt that this was a valuable service for the school and students alike. "I think it's had a very positive influence."

Dreams Do Come True

"Teaching was the farthest thing from my high school goals," Mr. Van Dame admitted. His original aspiration in life was to be involved in commercial art. He further commented, "in fact, art wasn't my original college major, but somehow art kept popping up and after the Army, and some peer pressure, it was decided to try teaching, with an art major. Even if you're leaning in a direction, you sometimes need a little shove!" Mr. Van Dame's schooling provided an ample background for his position of 21 years in art at Chaffey. His expertise in the arts reflects in his taste and recognition of talent in his students. He sees originality as a major consideration "with skill a close second" when selecting students' projects to be displayed in local art shows. He has assisted in the construction of stage sets for play production, art exhibits, and most notably, he is the advisor for Art Club. When asked what his overall view of Chaffey was, he remarked, "After teaching in 2 smaller schools, Chaffey seemed like a city in itself. The staff and students are outstanding and in that sense it's like working with one gigantic family. It's a good place to be!"

Mr. Van Dame painstakingly puts the finishing touches on his creation.

Chaffey High

"When first informed of my transfer to Chaffey, I envisioned a great challenge that would require full use of my skills and abilities," Vice-Principal, John Mendoza summarized, but then affirmed, "Yet I welcomed the change and felt good about my acceptance by the staff and about my efforts this year." Also analyzing their first impressions of Chaffey, fellow Vice-Principals, Phil Gosswiller and Earl Miller used such terms as "large," "old," and "beautiful," and described Chaffey as "a very diverse student population that gets along well together." Having the final word on the subject of the 1982-83 school year, 11-year vetran principal, Fred C. Adams, acknowledged the year to have been a positive one; however, he was ready to admit, "It has not been an easy one. Over the years I have found that adversity has a tendecy to make people work closely together." Tackling such difficult issues such as attendance, truancy, grades, and a decline of school spirit, Dr. Adams was positive in stating, "through all this, Chaffey High School continues to survive." In addition, to problems already mentioned, the partially new administration had a somewhat more bewildering dilemma. Earl Miller noted in response to the question of his "immediate problems" and "trying to remember all of the staff names and faces," while Phil Gosswiller candidly, admitted, "I couldn't find the restrooms for the first week." Sharing the opinions of his fellow administrators, Mr. Gosswiller also claimed the Chaffey High School Staff to be the best he had ever worked with, while John Mendoza generously summed up the school's student body with the following proclamation, "The student body reflects the diversity that makes CHS a unique school. It is this great student body" and an overall ositive feeling towards this school that red such faith in Chaffey from the adinistrators. Dr. Adams stated," Chaffey High is an old established school that has a rich history with many fine traditions. In a rapidly changing society, it is difficult to bring change in an older institution. This school has an abundance of talent and there is nothing we can't do if we make up our minds and work together cooperatively . . . This school's will overcome adversity. With the cooperation of many, we can do it."

Today we'll start a new life,
And we'll say our last good-byes
To all the friends we've grown to love
With whom we've laughed and cried.
Remembering the fun and laughter,
And watching all our memories grow
Throughout our high school years.
The memories of the dances,
And the new friends that we've met,
Vacations, teachers, talking,
And exams we'd rather forget.
Yes, high school days are precious
but brief.
Where all your dreams come true.
It is not the end, but the beginning
Of a life we'll start anew.
